Catholic Co-Ed School to Be Constructed in Rt. 209 Area

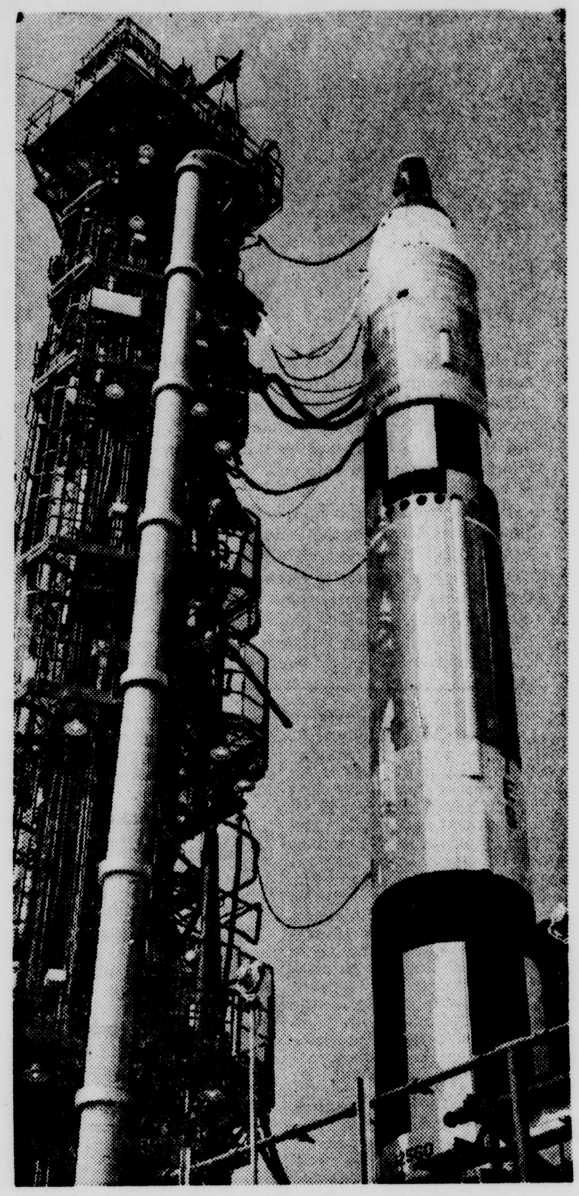

A co-educational Catholic high school will be built in the Kingston area according to announcement made today by the Archdiocese of New York.

The school, to be known as the John E. Coleman High School, will be built near the old Wiltwyck Golf course on Route 209 and will serve boys and girls of the Kingston area.

Local pastors were informed of the preliminary plans by Francis Cardinal Spellman at a meeting in New York earlier this week.

In keeping with the Cardinal's policy of honoring those active in Catholic Charities drives through the years, the school is being named for a New York Stock Exchange broker who has devoted much time and effort to the cause in the Archdiocese of New York.

Futher details will be announced as plans are finalized.

MAKES IT THIS TIME—Astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad were off and winging this morning on their intended eight-day orbital flight following Thursday's disappointing scrub. They're cramped in the Gemini 5 space capsule (dark tip) which sits atop its 90-foot launch vehicle, a modified Titan II missile. The launch weight 340,000 pounds, including the capsule — was lifted into space by a 430,000-pound thrust. (NEA Telephoto)

Satellite Rendezvous Set for Second Orbit Of 3.12 Million Miler

CAPE KE...NEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 5 astronauts rocketed into orbit today on the start of a marathon satellite-chasing mission that could push the United States past a significant milestone in the race to the moon.

L. Gordon Cooper Jr., the veteran astronaut making his second trip into space, and Charles Conrad Jr., the tattooed rookie, planned to ride their cramped space ship around and around the earth in an eight - day, weightless world.

This is three days longer than any man, American or Russian, has been in space, and is equal to the time planned for the first U.S. - manned lunar landing flight.

During the booster phase of the flight, Conrad in an obviously exhilarated voice shouted: "What a beautiful view."

Before parachuting to a landing in the Atlantic Ocean a week from Sunday, Cooper and Conrad are to circle the globe 121 times and travel a record 3.12 million miles.

Medical experts were confident the flight will erase any lingering doubts about man's ability to survive long enough in space to rocket to the moon and return.

Early in the flight, during the second orbit about two hours after liftoff, the astronauts planned to launch their own satellite, ejecting it with explosive devices from an equipment bay at the base of the capsule.

The satellite, which Cooper and Conrad have dubbed "Little Rascal," will be used in man's first attempt to rendezvous with another orbiting project. The technique must be perfected before man heads for the moon.

First Perfect Countdown

The pulse - pounding flight started at 9 a.m. (EST) after the first perfect countdown in the U.S. man-in-space program.

A nine-story tall Titan 2 rocket thundered upward from Cape Kennedy and drilled the 7,700-pound spacecraft into an orbit ranging from 100 to 216 miles high.

This was very close to the planned altitudes of 100 to 219 miles.

As the great booster lifted the astronauts into the sky, the pilots monitored systems, ready to take emergency measures in case of trouble. They reported everything in order. The only hitch in the 5 minute, 34 second rocket burning time was a brief loss of communications at the control center after second stage separation.

Communications were restored quickly.

Six minutes after blastoff, the Mission Control Center reported Gemini 5 was in orbit. At that point, direction of the flight shifted to the Mission Control Center at Houston.

Cooper fired two jet thrusters to provide the final push and maneuver to place the space chariot in orbit.

Intricate Maneuver

To perform the rendezvous maneuver, Cooper, as command pilot, was to execute a number of intricate maneuvers to first back about 52 miles away from the satellite and then to chase it across the skies, using a radar system, a computer and jet thrusters to hopefully approach to within 20 feet during the fourth orbit, and then to circle it.

If there were no hitches, the satellite was to be ejected at 11:07 a. m. and the rendezvous would occur at 2:36 p.m.

Among thousands who watched the liftoff of the Titan 2 from Cape Kennedy area vantage points were Mrs. Cooper and the two Cooper daughters, Camala, 16, and Janita, 15, and Conrad's father.

Mrs. Conrad and the four Conrad sons watched the launching on television in their Houston home. Only one other astronaut's wife, Mrs. Scott Carpenter in 1962, watched her husband's launching from the Cape area.

President Johnson was among the millions across the country watching the lift off on television. He was at the White House.

The nearest rocketeers ever came before to a launch exactly on time was on the last shot of the Mercury program May 15, 1963, a mission flown by Cooper. He was off four minutes behind schedule.

1 PC of Marine Force Killed

Viets, Yanks Combine In Sweep of Penisula

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Elements of a Vietnamese marine battalion clashed today with Communist guerrillas on Van Tuong peninsula where U.S. Marines were mopping up after the biggest American battle of the war, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The Vietnamese unit joined the Americans today in another sweep of the area, 12 miles south of Chu Lai.

No Yank Contact Today

Four Viet Cong were killed in the clash and four enemy weapons captured, the spokesman said. Vietnamese losses were termed "very light."

The engagement occurred on the western edge of the area where American Marines fought the Viet Cong earlier this week. No contact was reported today between Americans and the Viet Cong.

Lt. Gen. Victor Krulak, Marine commander in the Pacific, said today that about one per cent of the U.S. Marines who took part in the Van Tuong operation were killed and about three per cent were wounded.

He said about three-quarters of those wounded suffered light injuries.

Not Taking It Lightly

He gave no numbers, but said: "We can say, though, that by Korea or World War II standards, the casualties were light, but I don't want to take it lightly," he said.

"A dead Marine is a tragedy. A wounded one is only somewhat less of a tragedy, and you can't equate flesh and blood with achievements in terms of the inspiration that this victory has given our side or the damage done to the enemy," Krulak told a news conference.

He did not say how many Marines were involved in the operation that hit the peninsula, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, by sea and air Wednesday.

Military spokesmen said the attack involved a regimental landing force which usually numbers 5,000 to 6,000 men.

By accounts of Marine officers, more than three-fourths of the Viet Cong in the area were killed, wounded or captured.

Krulak confirmed that the Marines killed more than 500 Viet Cong.

Cong Toll Now 564

"The last figure (of Viet Cong killed) was 564. I would say this is an incomplete figure," he said.

As Marines continued their mop-up operation of the peninsula Friday a Marine spokesman in Saigon said the Leathernecks were still encountering sniper fire. He said the area had been the stronghold of the 1st Viet Cong Regiment, "one of the toughest."

The commander of the Army's new airmobile division, Maj. Gen. Harry Kinnard, and his staff, left Washington for Viet Nam to be on hand when units of the 1st Cavalry Division begin arriving.

347 Missions Flown

Friday and early today U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew more than 347 combat missions in South Viet Nam, spokesmen said.

Some of the missions supported Marine ground action near Chu Lai Airfield. A spokesman said an estimated 400 Viet Cong were caught in the open and an

McKeon Named To Post by Men He Had Opposed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — William H. McKeon, the former Democratic state chairman, will join the staff of the Bartlett Commission as a $15,000-a year assistant to the commission's counsel.

Tried to Deny Posts

Ironically, his appointment to the patronage post was announced Friday by two Democrats who had been his bitter political enemies a few months ago — Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia and Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretzki.

Last winter, McKeon led an attempt by a Democratic party faction to deny Zaretzki and Travia the top leadership posts in the Legislature.

After a month-long stalemate between the warring Democratic blocks, the Legislature's Republican minority settled the fight by throwing its votes in the leadership elections to Travia and Zaretzki.

McKeon's defeat led eventually to his resignation from the $30,000-a-year chairman's post last month. When he was replaced by John J. Burns of Binghamton, he said he had no plans other than to practice law in Auburn, where he resides.

GOP Stays as Head

McKeon's appointment was announced immediately after Democrats formally took control of the Bartlett Commission —officially the Temporary State Commission on Revision of the Penal Law and Criminal Code.

Although Democrats have a 9-6 majority on the commission, as had been indicated previously they permitted Republican Assemblyman Richard J. Bartlett of Glens Falls to continue as chairman.

Bartlett had headed the commission while Republicans were in control of the Legislature and had the upper hand.

He was re-elected unanimously Friday, after Travia and Zaretzki let it be known they thought he should be retained.

The commission also agreed to reappoint Richard E. Denzer as its chief counsel. Denzer had been a top aide to Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan before joining the commission staff.

Udall Warns About Water Gain in Area

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said Friday that a recent survey of this area to study water conditions, disclosed that several communities including Rosendale, Rhinebeck and Middletown, do not fully utilize their water resources in lakes, ponds and streams.

The Secretary also included Monticello, Albany and New York City in his comment.

Drought Might Worsen

He warned that the drought in the Northeast might be worse in September than this month, and he cautioned against over-optimism based on the water program announced after an emergency conference this week at the White House.

The Secretary said, "The Weather Bureau has predicted that the next 30 days will be much drier. If this forecast holds up, the prospect is for worsening rather than improving conditions."

Catskill Water Bank

As an example, Secretary Udall said, the new water "bank" to be established in New York City's Catskill reservoir system will not receive a really critical test until about Nov. 1. In this "bank" New York City will deposit the 200 million gallons of water a day that it was formerly required to contribute to the Delaware River system to try to guarantee a water reserve for either New York City or Philadelphia, as need warrants.

Local Vols Plan FireworksShow to Boost 1966 Fund

A gigantic fireworks display at Dietz Stadium Saturday, Sept. 4, will mark the opening of a series of public events sponsored by the Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Convention Committee in a campaign to raise funds for the 1966 convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association next year.

The Kingston Vols will be host to the county convention next year.

One of Series

In order to raise funds to stage the convention in 1966, the Kingston volunteers have named a committee known as the Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Convention Committee, headed by Rodney DuBois as general chairman, to stage several fund raising events. General Chairman DuBois was recently elected president of the Ulster County volunteer Firemen's Association at the 1965 convention in Highland.

The fireworks display at Dietz stadium Sept. 4 will be the first

Seek to Break Soviet Mark

GORDON COOPER CHARLES CONRAD

Astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad, after a disheartening delay caused by mechanical troubles and the weather on Wednesday, went into orbit this morning on their programmed 121 sweeps of the earth during 191 hours and 53 minutes, which would establish a new manned-flight record. The Soviets have held the title for two years with the 119-hour journey of cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky.

German Firm Buys Division of C-M

The aluminum division of Channel Master Corporation in Ellenville has been sold to Vereinigte Aluminum Werke A. G., of Bonn, Germany.

The announcement was made this week by Harry Resnick, president of the Ellenville firm.

To Stay at Locale

The portion of Channel Master involved in the sale, to be known as V.A.W. United Aluminum Works of America Inc., will stay in its present location, Resnick added.

Included in the sale are the building and land currently in use, representing about 25 per cent of the total plant area on the Ellenville property.

Closing date of the sale has been scheduled for Sept. 24. The new firm will go into operation Oct. 1.

150 Workers Involved

Approximately 150 personnel are involved in this portion of Channel Master, which is concerned with the production of drawn aluminum tubing, extrusion billets, aluminum electrical conduit, pipe and fence posts.

Resnick stressed that there would be no personnel changes in the shift to the new company. All benefits and employe policies maintained by Channel Master will be effective as usual after Oct. 1, the president stated.

With annual sales last year totalling about $8 million, the aluminum division has in the past sold 95 per cent of its produce to outside manufacturers. Total sales of the Ellenville corporation last year was valued at about $35 million.

New officers of the company will include local personnel in addition to members of the parent firm. Maurice H. Roberts, aluminum works manager since the mill opened in 1953 will be named executive vice president and a member of the Board of Directors.

Officers Listed

Officers from the German plant who are residents of Ellenville will be Dr. Hans Georgi Seebauer, also executive vice president and a director and Dr. Gunther Piper, secretary-treasurer. Other officers are Dr. W. F. Wrigge, chairman of the board and Dr. Rudolf Escherich, president.

The parent company is one of the largest primary producers of aluminum in Germany.

15,000 Riot in Athens Against King, Premier

ATHENS (AP) — Nightlong rioting which Greece's new premier called "revolutionary action" was quelled at dawn today with fires still burning in some parts of Athens.

The capital looked like an armed camp under guard of police and armored cars.

The battle between massive police forces and rioters, whom police today described as "leftists and diehard communists," raged for six hours and left some sections of the city in shambles.

Police said that 340 persons were taken into custody. Many were released after questioning.

Premier Leaves Capital

The rioters, most of them supporters of fallen Premier George Papandreou, shouted insults against King Constantine, his mother, and Constantine's new premier, Elias Tsirimokos.

Papandreou left the capital early today for central Greece on his promised "march to the people" to tell his side of his dispute with the 25-year-old king.

At least 157 persons were hurt Friday night in a wild one-hour battle between 15,000 demonstrators and 5,000 police. Hours later, police hurled tear gas bombs at scattered outbreaks of rioting.

A police official said it was the worst rioting in the Greek capital since the 1947-49 civil war.

Since July 21, riots by sup-

List Newcombe, Scheinman to Top Primary Ballot

Lloyd A. Newcombe, Catskill businessman, seeking the Republican designation as candidate for state senate in the 43rd District, and Louis B. Scheinman, Woodbourn attorney, seeking the GOP nomination for assembly in the 110th District, were selected for the top line on the Sept. 14 primary ballot.

Drawings on Friday

The selections were made by a drawing held in the office of Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo in Albany.

Stanley L. Voullis, Middletown businessman seeking the GOP nomination in the 43rd was placed on the second line for the state senate primary.

John S. McBride, Monticello attorney won the second slot in the designation of a candidate in the 110th Assembly District.

The 43rd Senatorial District embraces Ulster, Greene, Sullivan and part of Orange County. The 110th Assembly District includes four townships in Ulster, six in Orange, and all of Sullivan County.

Ulster County Board of Elections said yesterday that a date for the drawing of positions on the ballot for local GOP candidates for sheriff and surrogate has not been set.

Elsewhere, the Associated Press reported Friday that Senate Minority Leader Earl W. Brydges won first place on the ballot in his GOP pirmary fight in his new senatorial district, comprising Niagara and Orleans counties.

His opponent is E. Philip Settimi.

Lomenzo's office has jurisdiction only over legislative districts that cross county lines.

Local boards of elections have the responsibility for determining the ballot lineup in districts contained within a county.

Board Vetoes Sheriff Bid Of Feraca

A petition filed by Joseph Feraca, Town of Esopus, seeking to have his name on the ballots for the Primary Election as the G.O.P. candidate for sheriff in September, has been rejected by the Ulster County Board of Elections.

A spokesman for the Board said the petition "in many instances" was not valid, and an examination of the names and addresses of signers of Feraca's petition disclosed many inconsistencies.

Will Confer Today

Feraca, a Town of Esopus constable said today that he would confer with his attorney, William P. Curran, Rosendale, later today to decide what action should be taken in an effort to upset the decision of the Board of Elections.

Feraca told The Freeman that he received a letter from Valerie Quick, clerk of the elections board, dated Aug. 10 informing him that his petition had been accepted and that he had been designated by the Republicans as a G.O.P. candidate for nomination at the Primary Election on Sept. 14. Feraca said the ojections to the petition were filed by Patrick Mataraza, (R) Town of Marlboro justice of the peace and assistant clerk of the County Board of Supervisors, on Friday, Aug. 13.

Noting that some signatures of area residents contained on his petition did not correspond with the names of the individuals as recorded in the office of the Board of Elections, Feraca cited some instances.

Cites Instances

He said that one of the most prominent business men in the Rosendale area, Edward Demarest, fuel oil dealer, signed his name on the petition as Ed Demarest instead of spelling out his first name. Feraca also said that Estelle Vianio, a Republican, signed her name correctly, but the Election Board records had her listed as Estelle Vainia. Raymond Paul Tresvik, Republican, signed his name on the petition as Paul Tresvik, omit-

Living in Fishbowl 14 Years: Caudle

Pardon Granted to Ex-Truman Aide, Tax Conspiracy Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — T. Lamar Caudle, an official in the Harry S. Truman administration who served six months in a tax conspiracy case, has been pardoned by President Johnson.

Caudle served his time in a federal correctional institution in 1960. The pardon, among other things, wipes out a $2,500 fine he had not paid and means he can practice law again before federal courts.

The one-time head of the Justice Department's Tax Division said he is very happy about it.

The pardon was announced Friday by the Justice Department. The White House had no immediate comment.

"I've been living in a fishbowl for 14 years," Caudle said in Wadesboro, N.C., upon hearing the news. "Everywhere I go people know me. They remember me as the man who was fired by Harry Truman."

Truman dismissed Caudle for outside activities incompatible with his government duties.

Five years later, in 1956, during the Eisenhower administration, Caudle and Matthew J. Connelly, Truman's appointments secretary, were convicted on charges of accepting oil royalties in exchange for using their influence to block prosecution or ease the sentence of a St. Louis shoe wholesaler convicted of federal income tax evasion.

Caudle said when he was released that "I was a product of a vendetta that Sherman Adams and Herbert Brownell had toward Mr. Truman."

Adams was assistant to the president and Brownell was attorney general during the Eisenhower administration. Caudle repeated Friday that "Sherman Adams was behind the whole thing. Mr. Eisenhower didn't need my case to win the election in 1956."

Caudle, 61, insisted that "I

On Alleged Teacher's Assault

Ellenville to Seek State School Review

Ellenville's Board of Education will ask the State Commissioner of Education for a review and clarification of a decision in a case concerning the alleged assault by a high school teacher against a 14-year-old boy in February, 1964.

The Board at a recent meeting unanimously approved a request of School Attorney Benjamin Lonstein for permission to appeal to the State Education Department for the review of the case resulting from he alleged assault by the teacher,, Raymond Getman, against Thomas Thompson Jr., of Napanoch.

Lonstein has told the Board that after reading the decision of Dr. James Allen, commissioner, he believed the commissioner intended that the Ellenville School Board institute charges against Getman. Lonstein told the board that the commissioner's decision indicated that the charges would be dropped if they were not substantiated at a special hearing of the school board.

It was reported that Lonstein was not in agreement with the commissioner's decision.

The school board some time ago held an informal hearing on the complaint and decided no charges were warranted.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Bobby Richardson, second baseman for the New York Yankees, has a staunch faith felt by all who meet him.

During a discouraging period early in his career, a former coach wrote him, quoting Matthew 6:33: ". . . seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." He took that as an article of his faith.

Every year he talks to literally thousands of young people. Three years ago he spoke in Japan, traveling 25,000 miles in eight days. He works with Y.M.C.A's, conducting baseball clinics. He is a director of three youth organizations. All of this he does with one purpose in mind—to give boys and girls the faith for a fulfilled and useful life.

Bobby says, "I enjoy the sport I am in, but only because I feel that this is where God would have me serve Him."

Handyman Pastor To Retire After Years of Service

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — Henryetta's chief handyman retired today to go back to the orchard he left 58 years ago in Hofstade, Belgium.

For 53 of those years, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Theophile Caudron was pastor of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church and a minister of goodwill and leadership for the residents of this eastern Oklahoma community.

Twice called in by governors of Oklahoma to help settle labor disputes in this former coal mining country, the monsignor — now 84 — was a mediator, carpenter, school superintendent, gardener, janitor and architect.

Four years ago, Msgr. Caudron decided the church roof needed patching and he was the man to do the job. He did it.

He volunteered for assignment to what was then the Indian territory after his ordination in July, 1907 at the University of Louvain, Belgium.

He arrived two months before the territory became the State of Oklahoma, and was given a church assignment in Langston.

He came to Henryetta five years later to find a small frame church. St. Michael's now has five large brick structures, including two school buildings, and several small buildings.

"I designed them all, except for the church," he said. "I even laid some of the brick."

There's never been a janitor in the half-century Msgr. Caudron has been at St. Michael's. "I was janitor, gardener—I did it all. I like economy," he said.

Ellenville Reformed To Build New Center

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held at the Ellenville Reformed Church Monday 10 a. m. marking the start of construction on a new Christian education center.

The building will be constructed off the east wing of the present structure and into the back lot of the church grounds. Benedict & Hammerstrom are architects and McDole Construction Co., builders.

The Rev. George H. Winn, pastor, extends an invitation to the public to attend the ceremony. He said that memorial gifts as well as other donations are being accepted to underwrite the building project.

Morning Meditations

Morning Meditations are conducted by the Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday over radio station WGHQ at 6:25 a. m. The speaker for next week will be the Rev. Thomas Younce, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Kingston.

Religious Programs

The Kingston Area Council of Churches provides a daily Thought for the Day at 6 a. m. and 11 p. m. on radio station WKNY, given during the coming week, Monday through Friday by the Rev. H. Colman Lamb, acting minister of the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

Local Delegates Attend Mormon Parley at Fair

A group of local young people of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, who are members of the MIA together with chaperones attended the Mormon Youth Conference held in New York City at Columbia University over the past weekend.

Those attending were Scott Sheeley, High Falls, Rex Kinjry, Mt. Marion, Barbara Higgins, Jewett, Maryanne and Beverley Myer together with their mothers Mrs. Gladys Myer of Veteran; Mrs. Irma Sagazie, Mt. Marion, Mrs. Ethel Sleight, Lake Katrine, Doreen Kraemer, Mt. Marion Park, Laurel and Robin Wilbur, Mt. Tremper. Their headquarters were at Columbia University where all the meetings took place. There were more than 1100 young people including chaperones at this conference from many eastern states and Canada.

Friday afternoon and evening were spent at the World's Fair. After a conference on Saturday morning, a sightseeing trip was taken in the afternoon of the City of New York. In the evening there was a dance at one of the large modern halls with two orchestras. Sunday was devoted to an MIA conference in the morning with a sacrament service in the afternoon. Besides the speakers there were numerous testimonies given by the youth of the church.

On Saturday morning Dr. Emerson Day, director of the Strang Cancer Prevention Clinic and Emerson Foote, National Inter-Agency Council on Smoking gave talks on the dangers in smoking. A film was also shown, after which there was a question and answer period.

Members of the general authorities from Salt Lake City attended including Mrs. Margaret R. Jackson, First Counsellor, YWMIA General Presidency, Marion D. Hanks, First Council of Seventy, with Winifred Bowers, President of YWMIA, New York State presiding.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Aug. 21, the 233rd day of 1965. There are 132 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1858, Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas opened their series of debates in Ottawa, Ill., in their race for the Senate. Douglas won the series, but Lincoln became a national figure and laid the groundwork for his election as president two years later.

On this date

In 1856, a wind storm blew down the Charter Oak at Hartford, Conn. The tree had been venerated as the hiding place of Connecticut's royal charter which Britain wanted returned.

In 1621, a widow and 11 single girls left London for Virginia, each to be sold to bachelors for 120 pounds of tobacco.

In 1908, baseball star Charles (Gabby) Street became the first man to catch a ball dropped from the Washington monument.

In 1918, the second battle of the Somme began in World War I.

In 1943, the Navy announced that the Japanese had evacuated their last North American foothold—the island of Kiska in the Aleutians.

Ten years ago — Exhibits of peaceful uses of nuclear energy were presented to representatives of 60 nations meeting in Geneva.

One year ago — The Federal Trade Commission postponed til mid-1965 an order requiring health warnings on cigarette packages.

Discount Warning Sounded

Report Con Men Use Medicare as Racket

Elderly citizens should not pay money for Medicare coverage to individuals posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration, Joseph B. O'Connor, regional director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has warned.

"In this most recent racket, which is spreading across the country," O'Connor said, "a con man alleges he is connected with the Social Security Administration and is authorized to sell Medicare insurance policies, or says he can enroll a person over 65 in the Medicare Program." He may offer a discount to anyone giving an immediate payment, but in any event will collect what money he can then and then disappear.

There have been other rackets at various times in the past including impersonators who have offered sums of money, allegedly representing an increase in social security benefits, as a device to gain entry into homes and find out where money is kept. If the opportunity arises, a purse or wallet containing money is then stolen.

Words of Warning

To guard against these deceptions, O'Connor stressed the following:

1. Those receiving social security or railroad retirement benefits will qualify automatically for hospital insurance, and will receive an application card for medical insurance benefits in the mail in September, October or November. All others over 65 will have to apply for hospital insurance which they will receive at no cost and will also have the option of enrolling in the medicare insurance program. No enrollment will begin until Sept. 1, 1965.

2. Hospital and medical care coverage will not be effective until July, 1966, so the $3 monthly payments by individuals for medical insurance benefits will not begin until that time.

3. There will be no discount rates of any kind under the medical insurance program.

Do Not Collect Money

4. Any contact in which cash is requested should be reported to the local social security district office immediately.

Bonafide social security representatives can identify themselves either through official cards bearing their pictures, or through the local social security district office, O'Connor assured the public. No social security representative, however, is authorized to collect money for medicare enrollment.

Refugee Flees

Regrets She Had To Leave Mate, Freedom's First

BERLIN (AP) — "I am sorry I had to leave my husband, but my freedom came first."

That is how a young East Berlin refugee explained her decision to seek asylum in West Germany — via Mexico and New York.

The case was disclosed by the private West Berlin information agency IWE.

The agency did not identify the principals but gave this account:

The girl, now 23, met an East German sailor and married him last year. For her honeymoon she was allowed to sail with her husband's freighter Leipzig to England to pick up a cargo for Cuba, going by way of Veracruz, Mexico. In England she began thinking of seeking asylum from Communist-run Germany but apparently her husband did not want to go along.

In Veracruz she managed to reach the West German consul. When her flight was discovered, the ship's captain — and her husband—came to the consulate but couldn't persuade her to change her mind.

She was flown to New York and then to Frankfurt, West Germany.

Ex-Newsman Is Found Dead of Gunshot Wounds

MECHANICVILLE, NY. (AP) —An official of the State Education Department and former newspaper reporter has died of a gunshot wound in his head.

An Italian Army rifle had been propped against his body, State Police said.

The body of Benjamin L. Olds, 49, was found Friday by his wife when she returned from work to their home in nearby Clifton Park.

For reasons of health, Olds had been on leave from his post as Director of Publications for the Education Department. His wife told troopers that he had been depressed.

Olds was named to the state job in 1961.

Olds had worked for the New York Daily News, Newsday and several magazines, including Family Circle.

SCHOLARSHIP CAMPERS — Among the above are 13 children from the Kingston area who attended Camp Bryton Rock this summer and received from two to four weeks vacation through the First Emmanuel Church camp scholarship fund and the Nate Armstrong's C.S. fund. Contributions to this vacation program now in its fourth year and known as Operation Children Who Were Left Behind, were made by some 16 benefactors. Camp Bryton Rock sponsored by First Emmanuel Church, 50 Abeel Street, was founded 32 years ago by Mrs. Lilybelle E. McHugh, directoress. The Rev. Reginald L. McHugh, pastor of the church is director. Mrs. Gloria Y. Herron is assistant director and the Rev. Marco R. McHugh, co-pastor, is director of activities. Among those serving in an advisory capacity to the camp scholarship fund are Mrs. Jennie Ulett, Mrs. Bessie B. Perry, Nathan Armstrong, Harvey V. Herron, Joshua Ulett, Randolph Smith and Mrs. Jessie Hill. (H. Pete Powell photo)

New Paltz

New Teachers Join Central School Faculty

Five new teachers have been added to the New Paltz Central School staff for the school year beginning next month. Frederick C. Dippel, supervising principal, said that all open positions are now filled and school will be ready to open.

Frank Wright, a junior-senior high school art teacher, was a graduate of the college in New Paltz in 1964 and has had considerable experience in commercial art. Miss Jeannette Sellier will be the new first grade teacher. She is also a New Paltz graduate and did her student teaching at the Duzine School.

An elementary music teacher has been obtained from western New York. She is Miss Nancy F. Hebner. John P. Masson will be the French teacher. He has been teaching in Pennsylvania. Miss Lulu Pearl Johnson, from Savanah, Ga., will be the new physical education teacher for girls. She will also assist with the cheerleaders.

Vincent Ciccarelli has been hired as a bus driver for the school year, and Mrs. Joyce Sutherland has been employed as a food service worker to replace Mrs. Jane DuBois who has moved to Albany.

Walter C. Dyer, councilman of the Town of New Paltz, has announced that he will be a candidate at the Republican Caucus to be held in September, for the two year term as town councilman to succeed himself.

Dyer has lived in New Paltz for the past 22 years. He was appointed town councilman in March, 1965 by the town board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Rexford Schneider.

Dyer, his wife, Laura, and daughter Linda, live on Duzine Road, New Paltz.

Story Hour at Library

Aug. 25, college students in the children's literature course from the State University, under the direction of Dr. Josephine Palmer, will conduct a story hour at the Elting Memorial Library.

The hour will be held Wednesday 11:15 to 11:45 a. m. All children, ages 4 through 8, may attend.

ReformedChurchNotes

Spititual Concern will be the sermon topic at the New Paltz Reformed Church Sunday morning at the 9 a. m. service.

The Camp Wallkill singers will provide music at this service. Members of the consistory of the church have been conducting a brief worship service at Camp Wallkill each Sunday morning during the camp season.

The Ladies Aid of the Reformed Church met Friday at the home of Mrs. John Meyer on the Mountain Rest Road.

Inspiration for Poem

Lord Byron gained inspiration for his poem, "Prisoner of Chillon," from the imprisonment in the castle of Francis Bonnivard, Swiss patriot and church official, who suffered there in the cause of religion.

One of the things that marks an expert's play of the cards is his careful attention to apparently unimportant low cards. These cards mean nothing to most players and whereas the expert follows suit carefully the average player lets his lowest cards go automatically.

South was one of those careless players. He looked over dummy for a second and noted that he had nine tricks unless something unfortunate happened to dummy's diamond suit.

He gathered in the first spade trick and promptly played out his six of diamonds. West played low and dummy's queen held the trick. Then came the king of diamonds. East discarded the six of spades and all of a sudden South had a problem.

It was a really tough problem because there was no solution. South had no more chance to make his contract than he would have to unscramble an egg.

An expert would never have had any problem at all. His lead at trick two would have been the ten of diamonds, not the six. He wouldn't have really had to think since experts learn to unblock automatically and expert South would have recognized the possibility of that ten-nine of diamonds forming a block.

Then he would have completed the unblock by dropping the nine of diamonds next and would have been able to finesse successfully against the jack on the third lead of the suit after returning to his hand.

Long Strike Over

Work Expected To Resume 23rd On Albany Jobs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Work is expected to resume Monday on about $250,000 million worth of building projects in this area, marking the end of a 10-week-old strike.

A spokesman for the 30-union Building Trades Council said that the final block to settlement of the strike was removed Friday when a 400 - member local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers agreed to a contract.

Union spokesmen in Troy and Schenectady said, however, that locals in their cities still had not signed contracts. They expressed hope that "minor complications" would be worked out over the weekend.

The contract provides for gradual reduction of the work week to 35 hours, from the present 40, and pay increases of $1.40 an hour during the five-year contract period.

Settlements had been reached earlier with members of the operating engineers, masons, carpenters, laborers and related construction unions.

About 10,000 workers are represented by the Council, which bargained with the Eastern New York Construction Employers Association.

The association represents about 250 contractors.

4 Cars Damaged, 1 Person Hurt in BroadwayMishaps

Two accidents on Broadway early this morning resulted in one injury and minor damage to four vehicles.

Sustaining possible minor internal injuries was Richard B. Kelder Jr., 18, 35 Hone Street, operator of a vehicle owned by Richard B. Kelder Sr.

The car Kelder was driving reportedly stopped in the line of traffic for a Stop Here on Red Signal sign near Broadway and Van Deusen Street about 3:30 a. m.

A car driven by John D. Martine, 26, 268 Washington Avenue apparently failed to stop in time and ran into the rear of Kelder's vehicle. Mertine's vehicle was damaged in the left front and dented the left and right rear of the Kelder car, a police report stated.

Patrolman George Barringer and George Deyo were in charge.

Earlier in the morning, two cars were involved in a mishap near 460 Broadway.

A vehicle driven by James Paulson, 43, Yonkers, N. Y. ran into a car owned by Robert S. Morris of 460 Broadway, parked in front of his house about 1:40 a. m., according to police reports. Both cars received minor damages. Patrolman Leon T. Fitzgerald investigated.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — There will be five one-room schools in Georgia this fall compared with 3,422 in 1930. All five are in remote areas and state officials say there are no plans to eliminate them.

Accord Church to Start Extensive Building Plan

An extensive building and renovation program at the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord will start with a kick-off dinner Sunday 7:30 p. m. at the Pine Hill Hotel, Accord.

Long range plans call for new building to provide educational facilities, renovation of the sanctuary and present exterior and a new heating system. It is hoped that work will be started this fall on the new educational wing.

Fund campaign visitations will be conducted Aug. 23 to Sept. 3.

Serving on the committee are the Rev. Robert A. Perry, minister; Franklin S. Kelder, general chairman; Mrs. Floyd Countryman Jr., dinner chairman, Mrs. John S. Cross Jr., publicity, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Schoonmaker, hospitality; Bruce Clarke, transportation; Charles Ludlow, clerical; Meredith E. Morgan, church treasurer and Philip Davis, special gifts.

Most pressing is the need for education facilities. At the present time classes meet in crowded, makeshift locations and there is not enough room to conduct a daily vacation Bible school.

The new building designed by Albert E. Milliken, architect of Kingston will provide space for Sunday school, kitchen, choir, pastor's office and group meetings.

List Reynolds' Estate

LONDON (AP) — American writer Quentin Reynolds left an estate in England valued at 10,533 pounds (29,492.40), according to his will made public today.

Reynolds, who endeared himself to the British public with his broadcasts and writings in the early days of World War II, died in California on March 17 at the age of 62.

He left his property in equal shares to his sister, Marjorie Reynolds Kirk; his sister-in-law, Beatrice Reynolds, and his secretary, Helen Pilver.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

It is arguable that Robert Manry is something of a nut. Here is a man who, having previously sailed on Lake Erie, heads across the broad Atlantic in a 13½-foot sailboat dubbed Tinkerbelle. He matched this eggshell against the mighty ocean, and somehow made it from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England. Only a nut, some might say, would have attempted such a thing.

But Robert Manry is, we suspect, not a nut at all—and this judgment is not based, either, on professional kinship springing from the fact that he is a fellow newspaperman. There was an element of foolishness in the adventure, granted. But that every word, "adventure," is the clue to what motivated this journalistic mariner. To pit himself against the Atlantic was a supreme adventure, the adventure of a lifetime—"something," Manry said, "I felt I had to do."

There are always a few men around who risk all in such an adventure. They may not be prudent, but they are not nuts. They constitute a part of the cutting edge of human daring, of the effort to extend the range of possibility. In a sense, Robert Manry crossed the Atlantic for all of us.

Senate and House conferees agree at last on foreign aid—and as a result of the prolonged scrap, some are in need of a little first aid.

THE MIXTURE AS BEFORE

It may not be quite fair to say, as a former FCC chairman became famous for saying, that televison is a "vast wasteland." It contains more oases than radio, which with few exceptions is long on drivel and short on substantive value.

A scouting jaunt through descriptions of the new television fare promised for the fall and winter season suggests, however, that little programming improvement can be expected. The prospect is for more of the same — a lot of situation comedies, Western and spy shows; a heavy dose of rather labored fantasy involving space and reincarnations and even one of the Smothers brothers coming on as an angel; holler and wriggle shows geared to adolescent tastes; and, of course, plenty of old movies.

On the credit side are a number of specials that sound promising. In the main, however, it appears that those who would like something refreshingly new and imaginative are going to be disappointed again.

President Johnson is said to be less thin-skinned about press criticism than he used to be. That's the way, when callouses begin to form.

BETTING ON MACHINES

Along with other confusion, recent years have put to a test the generally accepted faith in the ability of machines to bring down the price of manufactured articles. Foreign competition with goods, a lot of it practically hand made by inexpensive labor, has befogged the issue.

One who retains the faith in the American machines is Roger M. Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. As reported in Steel magazine he, says forthrightly that our steel industry has the ability to build factories that would produce metal at a cost no other nation can touch. He argues that the big need in the industry, to open the door, is capital and this requires both tax relief and a reform of the depreciation regulations.

The Gemini 5 astronauts will be secluded for 11 days after their eight-day orbital flight. Apparently unwinding takes longer than the original windup.

ARMOR UNDERFOOT

Among the newest equipment being issued to troops in Viet Nam are stainless steel innersoles for their combat boots. They are designed to thwart the guerrillas' nasty habit of booby-trapping jungle trails and rice paddies with rusty spikes and sharpened bamboo sticks.

It's that kind of war—and many veterans of the fight are glad that it is, for the ratio of wounded to killed in Viet Nam has so far been higher than in any other war throughout our history.

Supposedly, Viet Cong reasoning is that killing a man only takes one solider out of action but incapacitating him takes out three—the wounded man and two others to carry him—plus placing a burden on transportation and medical facilities.

We can live with that kind of strategy.

The Vatican asks Italian motorists to show "moral maturity" on the road. If that sort of thing catches on, driving sure isn't going to be much fun anymore.

Global View

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

United Nations, N. Y. (NEA)—The modern breed of dictators, like Indonesia's President Sukarno, used to make triumphal tours of Russia whenever, faced with serious domestic trouble, they needed to bolster their prestige.

But times have changed. Since the fall of Algeria's dictator Ben Bella a pilgrimage to Moscow no longer guarantees popularity at home. Ben Bella was sent into oblivion soon after he was given the red carpet treatment by the Kremlin and proclaimed a "hero" of the Soviet Union.

So Egypt's President Nasser has decided to take out double insurance—to visit Russia and charge that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) plots to overthrow his regime.

But will his trip to Russia and preposterous charge against the CIA divert the attention of Egypt's hungry peasants and Cairo's slum dwellers from their grim reality? Will it convince them that Nasser is not only a Red hero but also a modern Saladdin, a savior of the Arabs whom the Western imperialists seek to enslave?

According to Tunisia's President Bourgiba, Nasser is a failure at home and abroad and time is against him. "The problem Arab leaders now face is to analyze why Nasser failed," Bourgiba said.

To be sure, Tunisia's president was never Nasser's admirer. He always regarded him as a windbag who was building his Arab empire on shifting sands. But Bourgiba is today one of the most realistic Arab statesmen. His views surely deserve careful consideration by the heavy thinkers in the U.S. State Department.

Bourgiba's information is also confirmed by Middle Eastern diplomats in the United Nations. According to their reports. Egypt's economy is in shambles. Hunger and disease are as rampant 13 years after Nasser seized power as under the corrupt rule of King Farouk.

However, it is in his foreign policy that Nasser's failure is most glaring. Even his ambitious program to build long-range missiles has collapsed since the mass exodus from Cairo of West German engineers and technicians.

There is no longer any doubt that the Arab world is in complete disarray. Few Middle Eastern leaders are now ready to follow Nasser's "revolutionary" policies. His friends are everywhere in trouble and his rivals — King Feisal of Saudi Arabia, King Hussein of Jordan, Algeria's Col. Boumedienne and Bourbiba — act strong and confident.

Is this, then, the time for the United States to pull Nasser's chestnuts out of the fire and increase economic aid to Egypt?

Only a month ago the U.S. provided Nasser with wheat and corn worth some $40 million. Negotiations are now in progress for additional massive economic aid to Egypt.

But even in the midst of the negotiations Nasser castigates the United States for trying to turn Egypt into a "colony" and threatens war against Saudi Arabia and Israel. How long will it be before he again tells the United States to "go jump in the lake"?

The State Department's ever-optimistic diplomats are, of course, hopeful that Nasser will eventually see the light and become a "moderate" dictator. But will they never learn from history? Even their recent experiences with Sukarno. Ghana's Kwame Nkrumah an dothers should have taught them that a power-hungry dictator, left or right, cannot be appeased or trusted.

When he is in trouble the wisest diplomacy is to let him stew in his own juice.

Research Holds Promise Of Banning Tooth Decay

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Some people decry the "lack of research in dentistry." "Why," they demand to know, "hasn't tooth decay been eliminated or at least controlled?"

There is a vast and ever expanding volume of research in all phases of dentistry. Much has been accomplished, especially for so young a profession, and the future is not only promising but exciting.

One major accomplishment is use of sodium fluoride in reducing tooth decay. Universal use of fluorides could reduce incidence of decay as much as 50 to 70 per cent. This would be an astounding achievement and it's within reach.

Just to touch on a few recent happenings in dental research:

The National Institute of Dental Research, in advance work of others, has clarified evidence that tooth decay may be an infectious disease related to streptococcus bacteria. Other studies indicate that periodontal disease may also be infectious. Could these diseases, which account for most tooth loss, be controlled or prevented by taking a medicine?

Other investigations by NIDR have shown that fluorides pass through the placental barrier. Since baby teeth begin to form in intrauterine life, fluorides can and should be given during pregnancy.

Some promises for the future:

● A new filling material—white, translucent, vinyl plastic — has been extensively tested. It offers great promise in preventing recurring decay around fillings because it forms a beter seal with the tooth. It's a far tougher material than others now in use and it may not require as much drilling in preparing cavities, since only decay has to be removed.

● A newly developed silver amalgam material may soon be put on the market. It promises to be less susceptible to recurring decay, is stronger, denser, and can be packed with less pressure.

For the more distant future:

● A powerful but discreet beam of light may someday replace the dental drill. Experiments indicate the feasibility of the laser beam to prepare teeth for fillings.

● Tooth buds may someday be transplanted in patients' mouths, replacing missing teeth, eliminating need for bridges and plates.

● Plastic teeth are being experimented with for use as implants in human mouths. An extracted tooth could be replaced immediately with a new plastic one, same shape, size, color.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstalt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

OFF AND RUNNING

Washington News

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) —The incredible Negro riot in Los Angeles, with its smaller echoes in Chicago and Springfield, Mass., puts new stress upon a terrible dilemma in American society.

Taking full effect this summer are the most sweeping national civil rights adopted in a century. Yet they are directly largely at old grievances in just one region —the South.

There really are no new laws to assault the statistics of social and economic despair which engulf so many of the Negroes who have migrated to the northern big cities, toward what they thought was a brighter hope.

Reflecting still the crippling neglect that marked their past, they have been mostly spurned in the North as in the South. They have found the form but not the substance of opportunity.

A GRINDING ISOLATION has become for many Negroes an embittered alienation. Pins on maps in bureaucrats' offices marked out their living zones as "pockets of poverty." But down in the hot streets, it is clear they are cauldrons of hatred.

It is a hatred which defines that dominant white establishment as an enemy. In calm hours, the call of the embittered is for a kind of instant revolution whose magic will yield them good jobs, housing and schooling in a trice. In full passion as seen in Los Angeles, the cry is for vengeance. The goal is to tear the fabric of society.

Once fabric is ripped in the consuming cause of revenge, the damage can easily go beyond human gauge. Hatred is a feeling which blots out feeling. Brutalized an unreasoning, the revenge seekers finally exhaust themselves in an orgy of self-destruction.

So, at Los Angeles, the jobless destroyed the jobs of many working Negroes, the rioters injured countless fellow Negroes and guaranteed the injury of others by drawing down upon them the inevitable force of an aroused authority.

The warfare in the Watts district surely had no victors. The dead, the injured, the blackened shells of burned-out buildings and vehicles are hardly the stuff of human triumph.

The "instant revolution" is made more remote than ever as the most severely alienated act to alienate those they must take their gains from.

On the Negro side, the Los Angeles tragedy rises acutely the question of what profit to the disadvantaged Negro there can ever be in declaring open war on the nation's 9 to 1 white majority, as vengeful black racists propose. On the white side, the predicament grows steadily more painful. The affluence of most Americans is not only greater but is far more visible today. Men who can see prosperity so clearly will not suffer their own despair through patient decades. The world over, this is the era of impatience. The United States cannot immunize itself from the mood of urgency which grips the disaffected everywhere.

RACIAL WARFARE OFFERS no sane avenue of action. As with any warfare, it can unleash the worst in some men. It did in Los Angeles.

But the fact that it has broken out sporadically and is posed as a policy by some men is a warning not to be passed over by Americans of good will.

The men in Washington and elsewhere who have underscored human rights in new laws face the far harder task now of finding faster and faster ways to give those rights they realized substance. Visible to each other, affluence and despair of course cannot exist in happy communion.

The events at Watts badly scar their violent perpetrators. But the country too is deeply damaged. Its only sensible response can be to mold hopeful new progarms which spread the reality of opportunity to encompass decent homes and good schools and jobs for the despairing millions.

Meeting on Vietnam

Wallkill, N. Y.
August 17, 1965

Editor, The Freeman:

The public meeting on Vietnam held last Saturday at the courthouse, presented some questionable aspects. First, a false report was circulated that the meeting place was the new county building. A dozen or more people sat there almost an hour before getting the right information. Some speakers were recognized as having spoken at Poughkeepsie—what were they, a traveling clacque? Congressman Resnick informed the audience that the meeting was a 'Congressional hearing.' I believe, an official Congressional hearing has to be authorized by a Congressional committee, or by the whole Congress in session. It surely is handled by more than one Congressman. Lastly, the meeting was advertised as ending at 1 p. m. Congressman Resnick adjourned it at 12.25, when several anti- Communist speakers wished to be heard. It would not be an exaggeration to say that the meeting was 'rigged.' I was happy to see a few staunch Americans picketing the proceedings, getting a few truths across to the man-in-the-street.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel industry's labor negotiations are coming down to the wire.

Only a little more than a week remains before the Sept. 1 strike deadline.

Still Deadlocked

Negotiators for the producers and the United Steelworkers of America were deadlocked during the week over terms of a new contract.

A federal mediator arrived on the scene of the Pittsburgh negotiations. He hadn't been summoned by the opposing parties, but his presence meant that they were still far apart.

Indications were that neither side would budge from its stand until the last moment, if then.

It was generally felt that if there is no agreement, President Johnson will step in and prod for a settlement.

The union was understood to have scaled down its original demands for annual wage and benefit increases worth 17.9 cents an hour to close to the 16.7 cents an hour in annual boosts it won from five aluminum producers earlier this year.

The companies were reported holding close to the 2 per cent limit on economic gains they say they will grant. The aluminum settlement would amount to 3.8 per cent in the steel industry.

Production Dips

Meanwhile, steel production during the week dipped 1 per cent from the previous week to 2,617,000 tons. The level remained high as users continued to bolster inventories as a hedge against a possible strike as well as to meet current booming demands.

Other developments in the steel industry:

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer, announced plans to double its capital expenditures to $1.8 billion over the next three years and to reorganize its capital structure.

U.S. Steel was fined $40,000, Armco Steel Corp. $35,000 and Erie Forge & Steel Corp. $25,000 when they pleaded no contest in U.S. District Court to an indictment charging that they conspired illegally to fix prices on certain products.

Automobile production fell to an estimated 55,800 during the week as automakers continued with model changeover operations. Output the previous week was 90,867 and a year ago 40,870.

For the year to date, output rose to 6,156,489 cars, compared with 5,095,547 at this time last year.

Chrysler Gets Jump

Chrysler Corp. got the jump on other carmakers in showing its 1966 models. It put its Chrysler, Plymouth and Dodge models on display at Boston.

On another labor front, progress was made toward settlement of the 9-week-old Atlantic and Gulf Coast shipping strike. Agreement was reached between the key union, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, and the American Merchant Marine Institute, representing eight shipping operators. Contract issues must still be ironed out with two other unions — the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and the American Radio Association.

The nation's industrial production rose sharply to a record in July. The Federal Reserve Board reported its index increased 1.2 points to 143.6 per cent of the 1957-59 average from 142.4 per cent in June.

Housing starts in July declined 7 per cent from June and were 3 per cent below July 1964, the Commerce Department reported. Starts were at an annual rate of 1,459,000, compared with 1,562,000 in June.

The United States in the quarter ended June 30 attained its first balance-of-payments surplus in nearly eight years. The surplus amounted to an annual rate of $528 million, compared with the $3,024,000,000 deficit rate in the first quarter and $6,204,000,000 in the 1964 final quarter.

WEST SHOKAN NEWS

WEST SHOKAN — Users report that the Peekamoose Road to Sundown is in excellent travel condition and with the exception of a half mile stretch is black topped. The tip of the Cemetery Hill, a landmark of pre-reservoir days has again broken water, vividly indicating the continued lowering of the Ashokan water basin.

Plans for the Olive Post No. 1627, American Legion, clambake Saturday were hampered by the continued absence of Robert Burgher, who due to a skiing accident and hospitalization in Idaho has long overstayed the family's return from their Boise vacation trip. However efforts by Herbert Wells and other members of the arrangements committee, success of the bake was assured.

Cards received from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goldberg of New Jersey announce the birth of a son, Jesse, on Tuesday, July 20. Their other children are David and Rebecca.

Olive native son, Chester A. Lyons Sr., former five term supervisor first elected in 1925, and later county treasurer, is a patient at Benedictine Hospital. For the past several years Mr. and Mrs. Lyons have lived in Hurley.

Mrs. Bertha Shimer is again home after a stay in Benedictine Hospital.

Two prominent Olive Bridge properties have changed owners. One is the Ted and Marge Restaurant and grill and the other the Major George Woodcock farm on Mill Road. Here it is said that the first tannery in the Town of Olive was established and operated on a small scale. This sitely home in colonial Dutch stone rates among the earliest built in that area and is presently maintained in first class condition. Within the past half century it has been sold four times.

Allan Krum, DWS foreman, is convalescing at his Acorn Hill Road home after a stay at Benedictine Hospital where he was rushed after a reported heart attack.

Lewis Kaufman was hampered in his hay harvesting at the Harlowe McLean farm by the showery weather.

Mrs. Cook of Shokan headed a delegation of representatives of the Jehovah Witnesses making house-to-house calls last Tuesday.

Albert Stanley Fox, who for several years has served as chairman of the District 2, Olive, board of elections, is now the designated Democratic voting machine custodian. He succeeds the 20-year veteran, Harlowe McLean.

Despite the sweltering heat Sunday afternoon there was a large attendance at the annual Olive Fire Department carnival.

Edna Longyear, who was very seriously injured in an automobile accident early last week remains in a critical condition. She was a passenger in a car along with Margaret Winchell who was less severely injured. The accident took place on Route 212. Both are descendants of pioneer Olive families.

Challenges Lindsay On N. Y. Bankruptcy

NEW YORK (AP)—City Council President Paul R. Screvane has challenged an assertion by Rep. John V. Lindsay, Republican-Liberal candidate for mayor, that New York is heading for bankruptcy.

Screvane, who seeks the Democratic mayoral nomination, Friday termed Lindsay's announced program to improve the city's economy "a plethora of platitudes and glittering generalities."

Screvane also accused City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame, another contender for the Democratic nomination, of having advocated "nuisance" taxes such as an overnight parking levy when Beame was city budget director.

Screvane in turn was attacked Friday by the New York Young Republican club which accused him of distributing anti-Beame "hate literature" in Negro communities.

Local Vols Plan

of a series of public events to be held during the next few months to raise funds to meet the cost of the 1966 convention next summer.

It is expected that some 7,000 people will be in attendance at the gala fireworks display which will start at dusk. There will be entertainment prior to the fireworks when Troop 12, Boy Scouts Drum and Bugle Corps, "The Indians" will stage a program. Troop 12, sponsored by the Old Dutch Church, is sponsoring the drum corps pageant at the stadium Aug. 28.

Chairman of the fireworks committee is Joseph DeLuca.

Working with General Chairman Rodney DuBois, as members of the Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Convention Committee, are Addison Jones and Orville Kimbark as co-chairmen. James E. Martin is promotion chairman and Robert Smith serves as secretary of the convention committee and August Lovy is treasurer. Serving on the Advisory committee are Albert Kurdt, Miller Locke and Morton Finch.

Need for funds to cover expenses for the 1966 county convention will be met through the promotion of several events over the next few months sponsored by the convention committee. This year over 50 fire companies from Ulster county and the Hudson valley participated in the annual parade on the closing day of the convention in Highland. It is expected that more companies will participate in the annual parade in Kingston in 1966 due to the accessibility of the city and its central location in the county.

1949 Last in City

The last county convention and parade in Kingston was the 14th annual convention held in 1949 when the local firemen hosted the county convention.

The next meeting of the general convention committee will be held Monday, Aug. 23, at Central fire station at 8 p. m. At that time further plans for the convention will be discussed.

air observor estimated 55 were killed.

Nine planes from the U.S. carrier Oriskany bombed highways and weapons sites in North Viet Nam. Four F105s hit the Phu Son military area about 70 miles southeast of Vinh, destroying four buildings and a ferry slip, a briefing officer said.

Other air strikes were against North Vietnamese bridges, trucks, barges and army barracks. All planes returned safely and encountered no enemy planes or ground fire, the spokesman said.

Mischief Charge Reduced

Two local teenagers pleaded guilty and paid $10 fines each today in City Court on a charge of removing vehicle and traffic signs. The youths were Robert Fertel, 18, 95 West Chestnut Street and Marc Johnson, 17, 11 West Chester Street. The charge was reduced from a malicious mischief offense.

Buffalo Man Killed

TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP) — Quillie Richard, 48, of Buffalo, was killed today in an accident at the foundry plant of the Chevrolet Motors Division of General Motors Corp.

A spokesman at Kenmore Mercy Hospital said he understood Richard was loading heavy objects on a truck when the load shifted and crushed him.

He worked as a machine operator.

Civil Service Exam: Sewer Plant Operator

An open-competitive examination for sewage treatment plant operator in the Village of Ellenville, has been scheduled for Oct. 23 by the Ulster County Civil Service Commission. The last date for filing applications is Sept. 17, according to Thomas Bohan, executive secretary of the commission.

There is one vacancy existing at present.

Candidates must have been legal residents of Ulster, Sullivan, Greene or Orange Counties for at least four months immediately preceding the date of the written test. Preference in appointment may be given to successful candidates who have been legal residents of the locality in which appointment is to be made for at least four months immediately preceding the test.

The salary range for the position is $4,000-$4,500.

Further information and applications may be secured from the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, UPO Box 172, County Office Building.

son boy appealed to Commissioner Allen on the grounds they contended the hearing was not proper. The board contends it was a proper hearing.

It was understood that board members question whether Dr. Allen has the right to order the school board to bring charges against the teacher, which the school district trustees feel are not warranted.

A spokesman for the board said Friday that it is not clear as to whether Dr. Allen is ordering the board to prefer charges against the teacher under the tenure act, or to conduct a more formal proceeding.

The ruling of the commissioner, it was said, is not a final decision.

Board members are concerned by the commissioner's decision, because of the possibility that it might interfere with disciplinary measure in the schools.

Leib, Valente Feted At Authority Dinner

The New York State Bridge Authority, Chapter 390, of the Civil Service Employes Association, held a retirement dinner recently at Cwill's Restaurant for Leo Leib and Charles Valente. About 40 members of the authority attended.

Leib started as a collector in 1935 and was assistant administrative officer at time of retirement. Valente was with the maintenance section since 1937. They were presented with gifts.

Marquette Dividend

The regular third quarterly dividend on the common shares of Marquette Cement Manufacturing Company, amounting to 45 cents per share, will be paid Sept. 13 to shareowners of record at the close of business on Aug. 30. This was authorized by the company's Board of Directors at a meeting Thursday. With 45 cents quarterly dividends having previously been paid on March 12 and June 14, the September dividend will bring payments on Marquette common shares to a total of $1.35 for the year to date. The same amount was paid in the comparable period last year.

"I hope that all the Republicans and my other friends think of what the Board of Elections is trying to do, keep me off the Primary ballot," Feraca said.

Noting that he will continue his work with youth programs, Feraca said his motto is, "It's better to build boys than rebuild men."

No Survivors Found

JONES BEACH, N. Y. (AP)—A 20-foot inboard motor craft 20-foot inboard motor craft burst into flames four miles out at sea last night and burned to the water line before the Coast Guard arrived. No survivors were found.

The Coast Guard reported that no distress call had been received. The vessel sank about midnight, and the search for survivors continued through the night.

Deputy Charged In Slaying of Rights Student

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A part-time deputy sheriff described by friends as "an easy-going, good fellow," was held today on murder charges in the slaying of a white theology student.

The student and a Catholic priest, both here for summer civil rights work, were shot down with an automatic shotgun Friday on a gravel lane outside a weatherbeaten grocery store.

The priest was hospitalized in "very critical" condition.

Police said Tom Coleman, about 55, a grandfather and the father of a highway patrolman, turned himself in a short time later and admitted the slaying.

He was charged with first-degree murder and jailed without bond. A county official said a grand jury probably would consider the charge in September.

The two clergymen were shot a few minutes after they were released from the Lowndes County jail. They were arrested last week during a civil rights demonstration at Fort Deposit, a nearby community.

The dead man was Jonathan Daniels, 27, who had completed two years of a three-year course at the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge, Mass.

Critically wounded was Father Richard Morrisroe, 26, assistant pastor at St. Columbanus church in Chicago. He was taken to a Montgomery hospital where two teams of doctors operated on him in shifts Friday night.

15,000 Riot . . .

porters of fallen Premier George Papandreou have caused more than 500 injuries and resulted in the death of one student.

The street disorders started after the 25-year-old king fired Papandreou July 15 over a dispute on control of the armed forces.

Just before Friday night's riot, the king swore in Tsirimokos as premier.

Crowds Insult Royalists

Demonstrators shouted insults against the royal family and Tsirimokos, 58, who recently bolted from Papandreou's Center Union party.

Tsirimokos indicated he would crack down on street protests during the parliamentary confidence debate on his government, scheduled to start Monday. Observers said Tsirimokos fears more rioting may result in a vote of no confidence.

The new premier made a personal plea to Papandreou to exert influence against "the downhill course to abnormality."

The demonstrators set bonfires and smashed shopwindows.

Papandreou planned to start a two-day speaking tour today through central Greece to drum up support.

Get Life Term

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — West German horse breeder Johann Lotz, 44, was sentenced to life in prison today and fined $74,816 on charges of spying for Israel and sabotaging the work of German rocket experts working in Egypt.

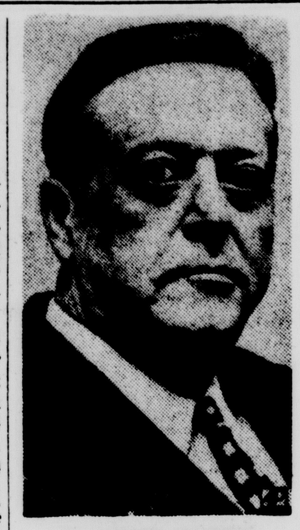

Lotz' wife, Walrud, was sentenced to three years in jail and fined $2,300 for complicity in the charges. Their prison sentences, at hard labor, must be ratified by President Gamal Abdel Nasser. There is no appeal.

A third defendant, West German steel executive Franz William Kiesow, was acquitted on charges that he collected state secrets to spread anti-Egyptian rumors and sought to undermine Egyptian military security.

Burn Cuban School

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban exile broadcast reported that anti-Castroites burned a central Cuba school where children were being indoctrinated into communism.

The fire, in Yajuajay, Las Villas Province, burned an entire block except for a soft drink plant, said the broadcast, beamed to Cuba.

feel no bitterness toward anyone."

He and Connelly were specifically convicted of conspiracy to deprive the government of their impartial services in an income tax case involving St. Louis shoe wholesaler Irving Sachs, who pleaded guilty to evading $128,721 in income taxes.

Harry Schwimmer, Sachs' lawyer, was the alleged fixer in the case, but Caudle said Friday that "the only thing I ever got from Harry Schwimmer was two Christmas cards."

Schwimmer was indicted with Connelly and Caudle but was granted a mistrial when he collapsed with a heart attack at the beginning of their trial. He was never tried.

Caudle served six months at the Federal Correctional Institute in Tallahassee, Fla., and was paroled. Connelly was paroled from the Correctional Institute in Danbury, Conn., shortly after Caudle had been released. He received a pardon Nov. 22, 1962. Each had been sentenced to two years' imprisonment and $2,500 fine.

Listen In on Queen

LONDON (AP) — The British government is investigating reports that telephone operators at Chippenham eavesdropped on Queen Elizabeth's private telephone line.

London newspapers reported that the switchboard girls in the village 90 miles east of London admitted listening in on the queen's conversations with her children as well as calls made by her sister, Princess Margaret.

The royal family visits the Duke of Beaufort every year for the Badminton horse trials near Chippenham and a telephone line is installed for their use.

Explosion Kills Girl, 8 Hurt

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — A natural gas pipeline exploded as a freight train rumbled by today, killing one girl and injuring at least eight others.

Fire fed by gas from the line raged two hours after the blast in a rural area nine miles south of here.

At least 100 acres of trees and farm crops devastated, witnesses said.

Killed was Nancy Anna May Rigdon, 9, who was asleep with her family in their home about 300 yards from the blast.

Sheriff's deputies said motorists on U.S. 30 reported seeing a fireball from the blast as far as 40 miles away.

The blast was heard at the Ohio Highway Patrol post in Findlay, about 60 miles away, and in Decatur, Ind.

The eastbound freight train of the Erie & Lackawanna line was damaged, and about one-half mile of railroad ties were reported afire. Four fire departments were reported at the scene, a sparsely populated farm area.

Space Twins . . .

tored medical and other data from Gemini 5 as it whipped overhead at more than 17,500 miles an hour.

The United States now has sent 10 different men into space, two of them—Cooper and Virgil Grissom—twice for a total of 12. The Russians have launched 11 cosmonauts, including one woman, but none has made a repeat trip.

Russia has not had a manned space shot since last March 18, when Pavel Belyayev and Alexei Leonov, collaborated on Leonov's historic walk in space, a feat matched later by America's Edward White.

Successful rendezvous today would lead to an attempt to dock the Gemini 6 spacecraft with another satellite launched separately in another maneuver which must be developed before moon journeys.

May Advance Docking

The docking flight, which will be piloted by astronauts Walter Schirra and Tom Stafford, presently is scheduled for Oct. 25, but the date could be advanced if today's shot is successful.

Gemini 5 is to stay aloft 191 hours, 53 minutes, just seven minutes shy of eight days, and splash to a landing in the western Atlantic about 500 miles southwest of Bermuda about 8:53 a.m. (EST) Aug. 29.

Cooper and Conrad were to zip around the globe 121 times, traveling 3.12 million miles.

During the long haul the astronauts will exercise with a stretchable cord, to keep their muscles from going soft in weightlessness. Attached to Conrad's thighs will be inflatable cuffs which will pump continuously to help his heart work more normally. For comparison, Cooper will not wear the cuffs.

To pass the time, the astronauts will attempt to schedule compatible work, sleep and eating cycles.

Other Explanations

Other planned experiments include observing missile launchings from U.S. bases; conversing with astronaut Scott Carpenter 200 feet beneath the surface of the Pacific in a diving bell doing oceanic research; checking their eyesight; studying the moon, stars and other celestial objects, and snapping hundreds of photos of space and earth features.

The rendezvous experiment is considered particularly important.

Rendezvous and docking techniques must be perfected for moon trips. The first U.S. flights involve launching a three man capsule into orbit about the moon, with two of the astronauts dropping to the surface in a special capsule. After exploring they will launch themselves and dock with the mother ship for the trip back to earth.

To Test New Supply

Cooper and Conrad also were to test for the first time a new power supply intended for use to test for the first time a new power supply intended for use on all future U.S. manned flights. It is a fuel cell system which converts hydrogen and oxygen to electricity. Problems in fueling the two fuel cells caused some concern earlier this week.

Gemini 5 was the third straight U.S. man-in-space flight scheduled since the Soviet Union sent cosmonauts Pavel Belyayev and Alexei Leonov up for a day last March 18.

NASA officials said it was difficult to assess whether the United States or the Soviet Union will have the lead in the moon race if Gemini 5 flies more than a week.

Dr. George E. Mueller, associate administrator for manned space flight, said: "I don't think any one flight or achievement is going to determine leadership in space. The flights over the long term will provide us with a sound basis for leadership."

Pays $35 Fines

William J. Lippincott, 26, of 59 St. James Street paid a total of $35 in fines in City Court today on charges of disorderly conduct and driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

Heads State IOOF

SPRING VALLEY, N.Y. (AP) —Carl W. Boltz of Buffalo has been elected grand master of the state lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Boltz was chosen at a special election Tuesday at the group's 129th annual convention.

He will replace Henry W. Vandercarr, of Schenectady, who died last week.

Rocky Urges All Support LBJ on Viet

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—President Johnson "merits the support of free men everywhere for his strong stand in Viet Nam," Gov. Rockefeller said today.

Speaks at Camp Drum

The Republican governor paid tribute to the Democratic President "for his manifest determination to defend and save human freedom from Communist aggression and so ultimately to win a more certain peace."

Rockefeller's comments were in a speech prepared for delivery at a review of the 27th Armored Division of the New York National Guard at nearby Camp Drum.

The governor said he was confident the guardsmen shared his views. "I know you stand ready to reinforce your fellow guardsmen whereever needed," he asserted.

The Camp Drum visit was one of four Upstate activities on the governor's agenda today.

Has Busy Schedule

The schedule called for him to:

—Fly to Camp Drum from his summer home in Seal Harbor, Maine, review the 27th division and speak.

—Fly to the Monroe County Airport, and drive to the Monroe County fair at Henrietta.

—Fly to the Chemung County Airport, and inspect work along the Southern Tier Expressway.

—Drive to the Steuben County Fair at Bath for a speech and picnic dinner.

—Return to Maine by air tonight.

Yorty Complains

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The slow, painful process of social and material reconstruction ground along in low gear today in riot-devastated Watts. Political leaders still sparred over many questions of how to do what and when.

A special commission appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown sought the cause of six days of violent rioting in which 36 persons died. Three thousand National Guardsmen remained on duty.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty blasted the commission, and religious leaders demanded action.

Yorty complained bitterly Friday about Brown's blue ribbon commission, saying an appointed Negro minister "was among the first to blame the police for the riots."

Thant Asks More

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite a dearth of dollars in the U.N. Treasury, Secretary-General U Thant has recommended a 7.7 per cent increase in the net U.N. expenditures in 1966.

He is asking the 20th session of the General Assembly opening Sept. 21 to approve a record budget calling for gross expenditures of $116,737,110. He may ask later that the figure be raised to $120 million.

Thant says the increased expenditures are necessary to meet the demands of the 114 member countries for expansion of U.N. economic and social programs, and to increase the size of his staff.

G-U to Open Store

EAST PATERSON, N. J.—The Grand Union Company will open a 6,000 square foot supermarket in Johnson, Vt., Wednesday, Aug. 25, the Eastern food chain announced today. Located at Main and South Streets, the Johnson supermarket will replace an older Grand Union outlet in the New England community. Parking for 55 cars is available next to the store. Grand Union is currently operating 524 supermarkets and Grand Day Department Stores in 11 Eastern states, Washington, D. C., and Puerto Rico.

His Way Paved

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A prisoner at the Washtenaw County Jail got out of a maximum security cell because the bars had been sawed part way through a year ago, police say.

The prisoner, Bradley J. Whitaker, 21, of Flint, Mich., was recaptured within seven hours.

Sgt. Ken Schultz said Bradley told officers he knew the bars had been cut because another man who had once been held in the cell told him about them. Whitaker, with a piece of hacksaw blade, completed the job, Schultz said.

Guard Mounted For King's Talk

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — Sheriff's officers mounted a strict security guard today at this Presbyterian conference center where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is scheduled to address a meeting on civil rights.

Sheriff Harry Clay said Friday night "anti-King" literature was distributed Thursday at this usually peaceful community, the home of the Rev. Billy Graham, the evangelist, by "a lot of people who were unknown — a rough looking group."

Clay said he had received reports "that certain outside violent hate groups have planned demonstrations and law-breaking acts at this gathering." He declined to identify the groups.

Dr. King was to have been the key note speaker Thursday at the opening of the conference sponsored by the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern), but consultations with Negro leaders in Los Angeles about the recent riots caused him to be delayed.

VFW Chief Vows Protection of Vets' Benefits

CHICAGO (AP) — The newly elected commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars promised Friday to fight any erosion of veterans' benefits.

The promise was made by Andy Borg of Superior, Wis., at the closing session of the 66th national convention of the VFW as he succeeded retiring Commander-in-Chief John A. "Buck" Jenkins of Birmingham, Ala.

Borg said the VFW faces a three-fold crisis: 1. The need to offset criticism of veterans; 2. The erosion of veterans' benefits; and 3. The threats from communism, both external and internal.

Also elected was the Rev. Albert G. Salnon of Glenfield, N.Y., national chaplain.

Why We Say--

USE INITIALS: We now abreviate projects with initials, but in the 17th century it was common merely to shorten words. That's how "mob" got started. It is a shortened form of the Latin "mobile vulgus," which meant the fickle throng. Vulgus also meant the common people, soon turning into our popular word vulgur.

SOME IMPORTANT DON'TS FOR THE DINNER TABLE

Don't encircle a plate with the left arm while eating with the right hand.

Don't push back your plate when finished. It remains exactly where it is until whoever is waiting on you removes it. If you wait on yourself, get up and carry it to the kitchen.

Don't lean back and announce, "I'm through." The fact that you have put your fork or spoon down shows that you have finished.

Don't ever put liquid into your mouth if it is already filled with food — this really means filled. You might have a little bread in your mouth when you drink your coffee, if it be so little as to be undetectable to others. But a good habit is never.

Don't dunk, alhough it is an approved practice in lunch wagons according to the movies. If you must soften your doughnut or slice of toast, at least break it in half and dip an end, or cut the toast into one-inch strips and dip them lightly. Or better, break a small piece at time into your coffee, milk, or soup, and eat it with a spoon.

Don't apologize and thus call unnecessary attention to anything so unpleasant as having to blow your nose at the table. The only thing to do is to end it as quickly as possible.

Don't wipe off the tableware in a restaurant. If you do happen to find a dirty piece of silver at your place, call a waiter or waitress, show him the soiled implement, and ask for a clean one.

Don't, if you are a woman, wear an excessive amount of lipstick to the table, out of consideration for your hostess's napkin, and also because it is very unattractive on the rim of a glass or on the silver.

Don't spread jelly or jam directly onto a piece of bread from the dish in which it is served. Put a small portion on your butter plate, using the spoon provided to serve the condiment. If there is no spoon with the jelly, you may use a clean knife to put a little on your plate.

Don't crook your finger when picking up your cup. It's an effected mannerism.

Don't ever leave your spoon in your cup. Not only does it look unattractive; it is almost certain to result in an acccident.

Don't leave half the food on your spoon or fork to be waved about during conversation. One often sees this done with ice cream, but the coldness is no excuse. You should put less on the spoon and need only one bite.

Don't cut up your entire meal before you start to eat; it only makes a mess on your plate.

Don't bend your head so low over the plate that you seem to be bobbing up and down for each bite like a robin for a worm. Of course, you must lean forward slightly to avoid carrying the food too far and risking a spill on your lap, but there is a happy medium.

Home Extension Service News

Summer is the time of year when things in general should go as smoothly as possible. So Mom can enjoy life too, here are some hints from Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent, that may help keep everyone cool, calm and relaxed:

Don't Let Wading Pool Stagnate—A plastic wading pool needs a thorough scrub every week to prevent the water from becoming stagnant and unsafe for the children to use it. First, turn the pool bottoms up to drain, then swish up a pail of hot soap or detergent suds and use it to brush-scrub slimy film from the inside walls—with special attention to crevices where sand and grit collect beneath the inflated rim. Hose-rinse and refill the pool with clean water.

Persperation Stains—Perspiration stains that have yellowed and set by aging frequently cannot be removed by simple methods such as rubbing a detergent into the spot and washing or by using a mild bleach.

On washable white or colorfast fabrics, these stains can usually be removed with a stronger bleach treatment, say textile specialists at the U. S. D. A.

One good method is to sprinkle sodium perborate, or a powdered bleach containing it, directly on the stain, then dip in very hot or boiling water. The stain should be removed in a few minutes. Then rinse well.

Do not use this method on wool or silk.

What Wax?—Waxing floors—and wondering which wax to use?

It's important you select the right one for the job. No one wax is suitable for all surfaces. Solvent-type waxes, for instance, give a soft lustre to wood floors but, because of the naptha in them, cause asphalt and rubber tile to become gummy.

Read the label before buying and applying wax. If the information is not clear, the odor will tell you whether the product has a naptha base. Water-based waxes have no definite odor.

Here's a quick guide to which wax to use on what. You may want to clip it and tack it to the bulletin board in your kitchen—or inside the door to your cleaning closet.

Linoleum—Water emulsion or solvent-type.

Asphalt and rubber—Only water-emulsion wax.

Vinyl and vinyl asbestos—Water emulsion or solvent-type.

Wood—Solvent-type wax.

Gelatin Instead of Starch — Did you know that the original finish is restored to cottons when a gelatin solution is used in the place of starch? Sheers and dark cottons can be given that "just bought look" by dipping them in a gel solution. After doing this, fold them in towels to absorb excess moisture; then press garments while they are slightly damp.

The gelatin solution is prepared by soaking one ounce of gelatin in a cup of cold water for a few minutes and then dissolving it in a pint of boiling water. Dilute this mixture, depending on the thickness of the garments to be dipped. Garments receiving this treatment will retain a nice, new finish for several wearings. They tend to resist wrinkles and dark sheers will not have a starched glaze. This may also be used on sheer rayons, veils, baby clothes, handkerchiefs and other dainty garments.

Wash Bathing Suits Often — Bathing suits need to be laundered after every wearing, especially if made of elastic or spandex fibers. Careful washing in warm soap or detergent suds and rinses restores elasticity. It also removes the sand particles, salt deposits, and other foreign matter that can ruin a pretty suit. Elasticized bathing suits should be dried in the shade.

Easy Way to Prepare Hard-Cooked Eggs—Here's a quick and easy way to prepare hard-cooked eggs for salads and sandwiches.

Grease a large casserole and break in eggs (to not more than 2 inches in depth). Cover and set casserole in a larger pan containing boiling water. Bake in a pre-heated 400 degrees F. oven for 40 minutes or until eggs are done. Remove from oven and score eggs. They will come out diced and ready to use.

Boy Breaks Leg In 15-Foot Fall From Cave Ledge

A New York City boy was in fair condition at Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville today after suffering a broken leg injury in a 15-foot fall from a ledge near Cragsmoor Friday afternoon.

Jeffrey Montogomery, 10, of Queens had gone on an exploration of the ice caves at Cragsmoor with a group of friends vacationing at Camp Sebastian in Goshen.

According to Ellenville state police, the boy stopped to look over a 15-foot ledge on exiting the cave, lost his balance and plummeted to the ground.

Dear Abby . . .

It All Depends!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hope that girl who signed herself "SELF-CONSCIOUS" because she had a large space between her two front teeth reads this:

I have the same trouble, and I used to be self-conscious about it, too, until someone told me that a large space between the two front teeth indicates superior intelligence and an active, dynamic personality. Thank you.

PROUD OF MYSELF

DEAR PROUD: If it is a natural space, fine. But if some of the teeth are missing, it may indicate that you have met someone who just can't stand "superior intelligence and an active, dynamic personality."

• • • • •

DEAR ABBY: Six months ago my daughter was married at a beautiful church wedding. Everything was perfect. After her wedding, she and her husband moved several hundred miles away to live where he had a job. We wrote back and forth and talked on the phone several times, but never visited them.

Four days ago, at 5 a. m., our son-in-law called to tell us that our daughter had given birth to a 7-pound, 8-ounce girl only an hour before. Abby, we couldn't believe it! We had no idea our daughter was expecting. When I expressed utter amazement, my son-in-law said, "You mean M——— didn't tell you she was three months' along when I married her?"

I am still in a state of shock. I can't believe that a daughter wouldn't even tell her own mother that she was pregnant all this time! What did she think—that we would never see her again, and therefore we would never have to know about the child? I am absolutely dumbfounded. How should I handle this situation? Should I go to help her with the baby, or just let things ride?

STUNNED AND HURT

DEAR STUNNED: Your daughter should have told you but she probably was too ashamed and kept putting it off. Your grandchild is here, so don't dwell on the circumstances. If your daughter asks you to come and "help" her, and if you want to go, then by all means go. But don't carry your "hurt" and resentment with you. To ignore the embarrassing past will help insure a more compatible future.

• • • • •

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office. A girl I have worked with for a long time is being married next Sunday. Almost all my co-workers received engraved invitations to this girl's wedding nearly a month ago. I didn't get one. This morning she gave me an invitation by mouth. I have already made plans for next Sunday and cannot attend. Must I give her a present?

JULIA

DEAR JULIA: Giver her a present "by mouth." Say, "Best wishes."

• • • • •

DEAR ABBY: You would be doing an untold number of new mothers a big favor if you would print these simple rules for visiting a new mother:

(1) Telephone first.
(2) If you don't feel well, stay home.
(3) If you go, don't stay long.
(4) Don't take children with you.
(5) Don't give a baby dress to a mother who has had her THIRD girl.

Sincerely yours,

A NEW MOTHER

Proposals Leave A Bitter Taste

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spokesmen from several sugar producing nations have reacted sourly to proposed revisions of this country's Sugar Control Act.

They testified Friday at a House Agriculture Committee hearing on proposed legislation to continue and revise the control measure.

The law curbs both imports and domestic sugar production, with the aim of maintaining a stable market.

Bids for larger quotas were made by representatives of Peru, Brazil, the Dominican Republic and the Philippine Republic.

A Philippine's spokesman asked that his country be permitted to increase its sugar import from 1,050,000 tons to at least 1,250,000 tons a year.

Oscar Chapman, an attorney representing Mexican sugar interests, also sought a higher quota but was reminded that Mexico is the only American republic maintaining relations with Communist Cuba.

Rep. Charles M. Teague, R-Calif., told Chapman:

"I would feel much more sympathy for the sugar producers of Mexico if the Mexican government showed more sympathy to our position with regard to the Castro regime in Cuba."

Can't Specify Sex

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — City personnel director Kenneth Gardner says state Civil Service officials sent back a requisition calling for a "male watchman" and a "male electrician."

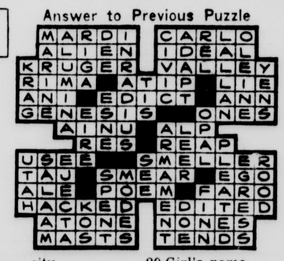

Gardner said he was told that by specifying the sex, the requisition violated a new state antidiscrimination law. He said the requisition would be rephrased, calling for a watchman and electrician "male or female."

Restaurateurs Set 16th Outing for Sept. at Whalen's

The 16th annual fall outing of the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealer's Association is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 14, Louis Barone, president, announced today.

"This year's event will be held at Gene Whalen's Ulster Landing Lodge and again will benefit various local charities," Barone pointed out.

Patrons may attend the all-day function, with servings from 2 until 8 p. m.

Charles Greco is ticket chairman and he reports that tickets will be available at an early date.

Others working with President Barone and Greco are: Michael "Sparky" Greco, Marie Heckinger, Jack Scharot and Fred Schryver.

Costello Captures Woodstock Open With 3-Under Par 102

Wiltwyck Ace Cards "32" on His 3rd Nine

William (Buzzy) Costello of Wiltwyck Country Club fired a 3-under-par 102 for the 27-hole distance Friday at Woodstock Country Club to become the fifth amateur to win the Woodstock Open in the post-war period.

A third nine, 3-under-par 32, enabled the slim Rider College star and former Ulster County Champion to lead a classy field of 23 professionals and 38 amateurs.

Costello, a protege of Ian (Scotty) Robertson, Wiltwyck professional, carved out lines of 35-35-32 for a one-stroke margin over amateur Joe Vallo Jr., of Southern Dutchess (Beacon) who posted 36-33-34-103.

WILLIAM COSTELLO

Tomaselli Tops Pros

Gene Tomaselli of Newburgh won professional honors on the second hole of a sudden death playoff with Toby Lyons of Greenwich, Conn., after they had tied with 1-under-par 104's.

Tomaselli carded 35-35-34 and Lyons, former Jamestown, N. Y. great, posted 36-34-34. Claude Young, the Winding Brook veteran, who dominates the Northeastern New York PGA circuit, matched par of 105, with 34-36-35, despite successive bogies on No. 4 and No. 5 the third time around.

Costello fired seven birdies and had four bogies in his triumphant sweep to one of the most coveted golf titles in this part of the country. He solved Woodstock's only par-five hole (No. 5) three straight times. He rammed home an 8-footer for a birdie-2 on the 9th and 20-footer for another deuce on the par-3 fourth. Fifteen foot putts accounted his other birdies on the 17th and 25th holes.

Lyons Loses on Bogie

For Tomaselli, the victorious playoff got him even for a loss he suffered in 1957 in a triple playoff with Charlie DeStefano of Poughkeepsie and Armand Farina of Schenectady.

The Newburgh pro almost knocked himself out of contention on the first extra hole where his drive faded badly and barely stayed in bounds. He wedged out beautifully to within 20 feet and matched Lyons' par-4.

On the second hole, Tomaselli narrowly missed the right hand trap with his approach, then chipped 5 feet past the cup. Lyons, on safely in 25 feet from the cup, went 3 feet past on his approach. Tomaselli cooly ran home his "4" from 5 feet but Lyons pushed his equalizer to the right of the cup and the match was over.

Van Aken Posts 106

Dennis Lyons, son of the pro finalist, tied his father with 37-33-34 at 104, missing an 18-inch putt on the 27th hole. Bill Van Aken of Woodstock, 1961 Open winner, tied with veteran Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie at 106.

Harvey Bostic, Wiltwyck, and Bob Botsford, Dutchess club star, tied with 107's.

Jim Murray of Pine Brook carded 106 and Jim Hutchins, host pro, was 2-over par 107 with a pair of 34's and a middle 39.

First prize in the pro division was worth $200.00 Costello received a $150.00 golf bag for leading the amateurs.

Billie Moffitt In Semi-Finals

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — Defending champion Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and Virginia Wade of Great Britain met today in a semifinal match of the Women's Tennic Invitational Tournament at Essex County Club.

If Billie Jean repeats she will be the first United States girl to win the title twice in a row since Shirley Fry did it in 1955 and 1956.

Virginia, ranked No. 5 in Great Britain, was the last of the foreign contingent to survive. She overpowered Tory Ann Fretz of Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-1 Friday.

Billie Jean, the top seeded domestic entry, posted a 6-2, 6-4 victory over teen-ager Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis.

In today's other semifinal match, Mrs. Carol Hanks Aucamp met Julie Heldman of New York City.

Four doubles semifinal matches also were on today's program.

Mathews Regains 1st Place

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Mathews and Willie Mays, a pair of swinging team captains, are leading the parade in the Month of the March for the Milwaukee Braves and San Francisco Giants.

Mathews hit a decisive two-run homer for Milwaukee Friday night in a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh. Mays hit a decisive two-run homer for San Francisco in a 5-1 victory over Los Angeles.

Results: The Braves recaptured first place in the National League, one-half game over the Dodgers, with the Giants just one-half game further back in third.

Elsewhere in the NL—Cincinnati's fourth-place Reds climbed to within three games of the top, edging Philadelphia 3-2 on third-string catcher Jim Coker's homer in the 10th inning. Bob Gibson pitched St. Louis to an 8-1 romp over the New York Mets. And Houston and the Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader, the Astros winning the opener 7-4 before the Cubs took the second game 2-0.

28th for Mathews

Mathews' 28th homer came after a single by Hank Aaron in the eighth inning at Pittsburgh, cracking a 2-2 tie.

Mays got his homer early, pushing the Giants ahead 3-1 in the third when he connected against Howie Reed following a double by Matty Alou.

Sammy Ellis went the full 10 innings for the Reds against the Phils as Coker and Don Pavletich, another reserve catcher, supplied the offensive punch. Pavletich drove in the first Cincinnati run in the opening inning with the first of his three hits, then tripled in the eighth and scored on Coker's sacrifice fly.

That made it 2-1, but Johnny Briggs tied it with a leadoff homer in the last of the ninth. Coker's winning homer in the 10th came off reliever Gary Wagner.

Gibson was overpowering in running his lifetime record against the Mets to 11-2. The big right-hander gave up three hits, struck out 11 and put down the last 18 batters in order after Charlie Smith's homer in the fourth inning. St. Louis got off to three runs in the first and added five in the fifth, all off Al Jackson, now 6-17. Gibson is 15-9.

Ken Boyer rapped a homer and triple for the Cards, knocking in three runs, while Lou Brock singled three times and stole his 50th base. The Mets, losing for the 15th time in their last 17 games, committed four errors.

Bob Aspromonte's bases-loaded single was the winning hit in Houston's ninth-inning rally in the doubleheader opener against the Cubs. Lee Maye started the uprising against hard-working reliever Ted Abernathy with his fourth hit of the game. Bill Faul won the second game for Chicago with an eight-hitter for his third victory — all shutouts.

Sanford Wins His AL Debut

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jack Sanford's surprise is the Minnesota Twins' displeasure.

Sanford, making his American League debut after nine years as a National Leaguer, set down the first-place Twins on one run in six innings Friday night, and the Los Angeles Angels held on for a 3-1 victory in the first game of a doubleheader.

Minnesota came back for a 3-1 triumph in the nightcap.

The Angels purchased the 36-year-old veteran from the San Francisco Giants only four days ago, a move that Sanford said surprised him.

Against the Twins, the right-hander allowed only two runners to reach third base before Tony Oliva led off the sixth with a single and raced home as Jimmie Hall doubled. Sanford retired the next three batters but gave way to Bob Lee in the seventh.

In other American League games, Chicago trimmed Kansas City 3-1, Detroit swept Boston 2-0 and 3-2, New York edged Baltimore 1-0 and Washington nipped Cleveland 3-2.

Joe Adcock gave Sanford a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning with a two-run homer. Albie Pearson knocked in the Angels' other run in the seventh with a single, one of his four hits in the contest.

George Brunet had the Twins shutout on three hits until the ninth inning of the second game. But Zoilo Versalles singled, moved to third as Rich Rollins doubled and scored the tying run on Tony Oliva's grounder.

Rollins went to third on the grounder and scored as Andy Kosco flied out. Sandy Valdespino then added a run-scoring single.

Key Skowron Hit

Bill Skowron's two-run homer off Kansas City's Jim Hunter in the third inning powered the White Sox to their seventh straight victory. Gary Peters, a 20-game winner last season, won his eighth game against 10 defeats.

Detroit's Denny McLain, now 11-5, stymied Boston on three hits in the opener. Don Wert backed McLain by scoring both Tiger runs after lashing a triple in the first inning and a double in the eighth.

Orlando Pena saved the second-game victory, getting Tony Conigliaro on a pop up with two runs in, two out and the bases loaded in the eighth inning. Jerry Lumpe scored the eventual deciding run in the sixth on a wild pitch by Earl Wilson.

Jack Cullen pitched a three-hitter for his first complete game in the majors, and Tom Tresh hit his 19th homer in the fourth inning for the Yankees' only run. Cullen allowed only one hit after the third and permitted just two runners to reach second.

Dick Nen pulled the Senators from defeat with a two-run homer off Luis Tiant with one out in the ninth. Nen also singled across Washington's first run in the fourth. Chuck Hinton homered in the Cleveland fourth.

Ulster LL Sets Big Field Day

Town of Ulster Little League stages its annual Field Day at their field behind the Chambers School Sunday.

Members of this year's championship club, D-Ds Dodgers and the Minor League champions will receive their trophies.

Those players who are 12 years of age and will be graduated from Little League baseball will receive mementoes.

All types of games will be available for both adults and children and prizes will be awarded. Refreshments are available.

V.F.W. Defeats Legion In Series Opener, 3-1

Greg Rios of the V.F.W. squad limited the American Legion to one hit in a 3-1 victory in the opening game of the championship series in the Babe Ruth League.

Rios fanned 12 and pitched shutout ball until the bottom of the seventh when he walked Bob Davis, Bill Connell and Harold Wynkoop to load the bases. An infield hit scored Connell.

The Vets picked up six hits—all singles—off Andy Murphy with Gary Short getting a pair and knocking in all three runs for the winners.

Short's first single chased Rios home with the Vets' first tally in the first inning. In the fifth inning, Short delivered a two-run single behind a walk to Bill Brady and Mike Collodi's single.

The second game of the playoff is scheduled today at 6 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

Miniature Race Won by Cashara

John Cashara held off fast closing Bob Rion to win the 1/28th scale main event by two laps at Kingston Miniature Raceway.

In a photo finish, Wayne Burhans was just nosed ou' by R n when he had a slight spill on the 49th lap.

In his first competition in the 1/32nd scale, Bob Rion won over Lew Helmbold and Bob Wilson in that order.

$1,243 Double Monticello High

MONTICELLO — A record daily double payoff materialized at Monticello Raceway Friday night when the 8-7 combination returned a nifty $1,243.30. It surpassed the old mark of $629.40 set in 1962, by a substantial margin.

Only 35 tickets were sold on the 8-7 combination and the lucky ticketholders knew they had something big when Jack Lake won the first race behind Sugar Heir to the tune of $57.20. Following Sugar Heir's victory, the double payoffs were posted on the infield board and the holders of the 8-7 combination could see that their double represented the record return.

Driver George Gilmour then made the record a reality by reining Midnite Grattan to victory in the second and a $24.20 win payoff: Sugar Heir won by a length in 2:07.2 and Midnite Grattan scored by nearly two lengths in 2:08.3.

The explanation of Johnny Sain's severance from the New York Yankee organization a year ago was officially contract trouble. That wasn't it at all. The simple fact was that the quiet pitching coach from Arkansas had no great affinity for Yogi Berra, newly appointed then as manager. And particularly he didn't care for the way Yogi, as a catcher, had second-guessed pitchers . . .

Manager Sam Mele of the Minnesota Twins now reveals that Sain wasn't really his first choice as pitching coach, the key move in his club's drive for the American League pennant. It was Sal Maglie, who isn't even in baseball this year. . . .

Sam Mele

"I didn't really think we had a chance for Sain," explains Mele. "So I contacted Sal. He would have come with us, but had just signed a contract to coach the Boston pitchers" . . . Maglie, however, never reported because of business commitments in Buffalo. Sain meanwhile developed Mudcat Grant into the biggest winner in the American League by teaching him a breaking pitch and saved the career of Jim Perry by getting him to turn his body more during the delivery and disguise his pitch. . . .

On the subject of hiring, there's a neat little story behind Sam's debut as a big league manager in 1961. . . .

"It was June 23," Sam pinpoints the date, "and Calvin Griffith (the Twins' owner) called me into his office. I'm thinking I did something wrong. I was only a coach. So Calvin asks me if I ever thought of managing a team. Now everybody, I tell him, thinks of managing at one time or another. So Calvin tells me, 'I'm thinking of making a change with Cookie (Lavagetto) shortly.' " . . .

* * *

Lavagetto was the manager, and Mele thought that would give him a few days to study the situation and prepare himself for the role. He nodded. "So in five minutes," says Sam, "Griffith is on the phone telling Cookie he's fired. And in 20 minutes there's a press conference." . . .

* * *

Asa manager, Mele follows one moral: don't tamper with a player's style. His first year as a major league rookie with the Boston Red Sox in 1947, Sam batted .302. It was the only time he batted over .300 in a 10-year career. "A new manager succeeded Joe Cronin after that first year," says Sam. "In the spring he looks at me in the batting cage and asks, "How in hell do you hit like that?' I stood a little like Joe DiMaMggio, with a spread stance. I had a short stride and was hard to fool on a breaking pitch. He wanted me to step into the ball more. He was famous and the manager, so I changed. It fouled me all up, and even after I switched back to my old style a couple of years later, I never regained my stride." . . .

In Tony Oliva, the Twins have an unorthodox batter, too. He takes a long time to dig in at the plate, and sometimes he lets the bat fly wildly after a swing because he has a bone chip in a middle finger that makes it hard to grip the bat. . . . "I tell the umpire to have patience with him," says Mele, "because I don't want to ruin him. I know the pitchers get nervous, and so do the umpires. Am I gonna change this kid? He's the best all around player in the league." . . .

* * *

Between you'n'me the pressures of being a manager sometimes work on Sam's normally placid temperament. He got set down five days this year for bumping Umpire Bill Valentine and has no kicks about the punishment. In his decade as a major league player, he was never thrown out of a game. In his very first game as a manager, he was bounced because he forgot a manager wasn't allowed to argue on ball-and-strike decisions by the umpire. . . .

EXCLUSIVELY OURS

The shipping business was excellent in 1906, and Mr. Hildebrandt, who was very much in this field, decided to build his home in Kingston, on W. Chestnut St.—of course. It may have cost him $60,000 at that time, but one would easily pay $125,000 today. The graceful carpeted stairway in the foyer makes an elegant beginning, especially with a fireplace. The crystal chandelier in the din. rm. sparkles of graciousness. The liv. rm. and veranda are delightful. A butler's pantry, modern kitchen, breakfast rm., and ½ bath complete the first floor scene. 4 lge. bdrms., 2 baths and an open library absorb the second floor together with French doors to balconies. If one needs more room, there are 3 more completed bdrms. and bath on the third floor. True refinement all the way—a home to be very proud of. May we show you our gem for $29,500?

PROCLAMATION

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, TO THE SHERIFF OF THE COUNTY OF ULSTER:

GREETING:

Whereas, A Term of the County Court of the County of Ulster is to be held at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, N. Y., on the 7th day of September, 1965.

You are hereby Commanded to summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in said County of Ulster pursuant to law to serve as Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors at said County Court, to appear thereat.

You are Commanded to bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the Jail of said County, together with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff.

You are Commanded to make Proclamation, in the manner prescribed by Section 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners, and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at such Court, or who shall have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, on the first day of its sitting.

Witness, Hon. Raymond J. Mino, County Judge of Ulster County, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, this 18th day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty five.

JOSEPH TORRACA
District Attorney of the County of Ulster.

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make Proclamation that a term of County Court of Ulster County and Jail deliverance will be held at the Court House in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, the 7th day of September, 1965 at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the Jail of said County are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance, or otherwise are required to appear thereat, and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said Court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness are required to return such recognizances, inquisitions, and examinations on to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of the sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances to do those things which to their office pertain.

When Minnesota Twins Groan It's Johnny Sain That Hurts

BY TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NED)—Johnny Sain sat there staring at a hole in his underwear.

He was talking softly as if he were in a hospital; and considering it was the much mangled Minnesota Twins dressing room, perhaps the hush was appropriate.

"Old undershirt's about had it," he mumbled while sucking an all-day chunk of tobacco. "But it still gets the job done. Same thing with the people. We've had more casualties than a combat division, but the people still get the job done."

The people are the patched-up pitching staff of the Twin Cities club. Sain is their 6-foot-2-inch, Paul Bunyan-sized coach and fans in Minnesota have nicknamed his battered boys the "black and blue oxen."

It fits. If they were old enough they would bankrupt Medicare.

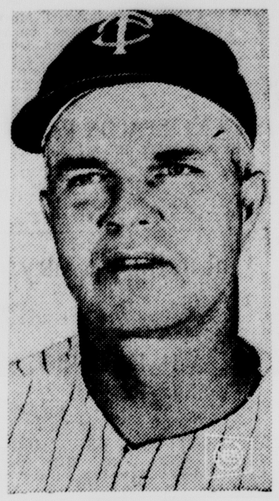

Says Sain: "Camilo Pascual has a torn muscle in his back, Mudcat Grant has housemaid's knees (tendonitis), Jim Kaat has a stiff elbow, Dave Boswell has mononucleosis and . . . and . . ."

He couldn't continue. It was like a roll call at the Mayo Clinic.

10,600 Injuries

Minnesota is the squad of 10,000 injuries and Sain has felt every hurt. He cares. He adopts the woes of his warriors. He is sort of a Mother Superior . . . with a hole in his underwear.

As a former pitcher (1942-55, Boston and New York), he says, "I understand their situation. I feel their troubles. I know their problems. Some folks think a pitcher is peculiar. He isn't. He's people."

Johnny Sain

Sain's slogan then is respect. And it works. Ask any of the other nine clubs.

On paper the Twins twirlers are an assortment of aches and pains, but Sain has instilled a Churchillian confidence in them and held them together by simple pats on the back—high or low, whichever necessary.

"I don't see I've done any wonders with this staff," he says while contemplating a large toe. "It isn't hard to coach people who are great, good solid citizens even before they step on the mound.

"I've made a few changes—like shortening the rotation from five days to four to give the starters a better chance to keep in rhythm. But by and large these people have done it themselves. I've never seen 11 more determined pitchers.

Asks for Volunteers

"Like the times when our bullpen has been overworked and overtired. I go around the clubhouse asking for volunteers to work relief and everybody offers to help—stars and starters included. I tell you these people have character."

So does John Sain, 47-year-old automobile dealer from Walnut Ridge, Ark.

Big, balding John, as uncomplicated as a moose in a meadow, lends quiet strength to the Twins' title chase. "He's made a winner of me," says Grant. "He showed me how to throw a breaking pitch."

"He knows more about that little baseball than anyone," says Al Worthington.

"We couldn't hold together without him," says Kaat.

Obviously, Sain is a member of a mutual admiration society. And the tributes fit him like a, uh, bandage.

Which reminds him: "The pennant? If any club deserves it, it's us. But the key depends on our future health."

But what more could possibly happen?

"Well," says John Sain, "we haven't had the bubonic plague yet."

Harmon's Lesson Boon to Souchak

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — A veteran pro who went back to school and an unknown judo exponent from Japan shared the attention today in the $200,000 Carling World Golf Championship.

Mike Souchak held a one-stroke lead entering the second round after posting a 32-36—68 over the par 71 Pleasant Valley Country Club course Friday.

The 38-year-old Souchak, who hasn't won a tournament in a year, said he paid a recent visit to his old boss, Claude Harmon, at Winged Foot Country Club at Mamaroneck, N.Y.

'I worked with him for five hours a day for four days and came away with some good ideas," he said. "Now the smoke has cleared away and my game has got better each day."

Japan Open champion Hideyo Sugimoto was one of six players one stroke behind Souchak.

The group also included Arnold Palmer, Miller Barber, Joe Campbell and Dick Hart.

Sugimoto has won two black belts in judo competition.

Jack Nicklaus bent a four-iron Friday when it hit a tree and had mud hole trouble on the 17th fairway as he staggered to a 74.

U. S. Open champion Gary Player of South Africa gained a stroke by having the first round washed out Thursday. Player was one over Thursday, but finished with a par 71 the second time around.

British Open champion Peter Thomson had a 77 and Dave Marr, last week's PGA winner, had a 73.

Pro Charts

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN

OFFENSE

RECEIVERS—Fran Tarkenton has chance to work with stable set of receivers first time in five years. Paul Flatley's sure to be split end, with Hal Bedsole at tight spot, and a free-for-all at flanker between Red Phillips, Jerry Reichow, Tom Hall, Bob Lacey. That means depth, too. For good measure, the running backs are great ball-grabbers also. RATING—good.

OFFENSIVE LINE—The anchor is Mick Tingelhoff, all-pro center. Switch of Larry Bowie to guard last year worked fine. Milt Sunde won job as a rookie, but Ken Byers also impressed in short stint last year. More concerned about tackle spots, where Grady Alderman is steady vet on left side but Errol Linden could lose out to someone like Archie Sutton. RATING—fair-to-good.

QUARTERBACKS—Fran Tarkenton has everyone excited about the new era of the scrambling quarterback, but actually he's getting more conservative every year, and better. Acceptable passer, fine leader and dangerous under fire. He has poise of a winner. Ron VanderKelen is anxious reserve. RATING—very good.

RUNNING BACKS—Probably most versatile pair in league when Tommy Mason, Bill Brown are healthy at same time. Mason tends to be injury prone. So rookie Lance Rentzel, darkhorse Dave Osborn are welcome. Brown was a revelation last year as runner and receiver. With Ted Dean done, Phil King was picked up for insurance. But Bill, Tommy are vital to title hopes. RATING—very good.

DEFENSE

DEFENSIVE LINE—Potential greatness at ends, just so-so at the tackles. Carl Eller on left wing is awesome prospect. Jim Marshall on opposite wing lacks size but has great quickness. They provide superb pass rush. Jim Prestel, Paul Dickson in the middle are adequate. They'd be vulnerable if some of the rookie echelon developed ahead of schedule. RATING—good.

LINEBACKERS—Rip Hawkins, particularly strong against rush, getting recognition as one of league's best "mike" men. Roy Winston coming strong on left side, and Bill Jobko is an experienced weakside operator. Bill Swain relieved Jobko in '64 after latter broke arm. John Kirby's a second-year man. The top three will carry the load. RATING—good.

DEFENSIVE BACKS—Coach Dutch Van Brocklin's particularly pleased with his corner men, Ed Sharockman and George Rose. Wouldn't trade them as pair for anybody, and gets Lee Calland back after year on shelf. Last year's safeties—Karl Kassulke, Larry Vargo—will have to fight off rookies like Jeff Jordan. Better protection against injury in '65. RATING—good-to-very-good.

SUMMARY—The Vikings are youngest team in NFL, and most dynamic. Confidence is up after tying for second. Van Brocklin's a tough, knowledgeable coach. Only thing holding them back is reserve strength if any of the frontliners get knocked out of action. PREDICTION—second place.

ROCK PLATFORM AND PIT CAMPFIRES

LOOSELY-PLACED ROCKS MAKE A GOOD PLATFORM FOR A CAMPFIRE THAT BURNS POORLY. DRAFT OF AIR FILTERS THROUGH ROCKS TO SUPPLY OXYGEN UNDERNEATH THE CENTER FOR A HOT FIRE.

Speedwell Does It at Monticello

MONTICELLO — The Clearview stable of Winthrop, Me., gave a reported $25,000 for Speedwell last season. Then a three-year-old, the daughter of Speedster — Lynette had been training on the trot and after trying her in a workout, Clearview head trainer Earle Avery made the transaction on behalf of new owner Norman Woolworth.

Woolworth and Avery were in for a big let-down, however. The fleet Miss only made one start on the trot, a winning 2:09.3 performance in a qualifier at Roosevelt Raceway. She became sore as a trotter so Avery fitted her with a pair of hopples.

In the first start of her life for money, she faced $5,000 Invitational company at Yonkers and trotted in 2:07.4 after a starting break which completely ruined her chances. Next, she shipped to Monticello Raceway with a contingent of the Clearview outfit under Carroll and won a qualifier in 2:09.1.

Wins in 2:05.4

Last night at the Mighty M, she made the second start of her life for money in the featured $3,500 fifth and promptly showed some justification for her $25,000 tag by winning easily in 2:05.4. Carroll setn her to the front at the outset, and she won like a good horse, following her wire to wire performance, by a length.

Second was favored Missile Toe, Howard Beissinger driving while Empire's Billy took the third spot for driver Al Burton.

Completely overlooked in the wagering, the four-year-old bay mare returned 19.80, 10.40 and 4.20 across the board. Her share of the $3,500 pot, which amounted to $1,750, is the first money of her life won as a trotter. It's a long way from the $25,000 but at least it's a start in the right direction.

Last night's Twin Double paid $1,301.60. Winning combination was 1-2-4-1. The Perfecta returned $71.40. Winning combination was 6-1.

A crowd of 7,366 was on hand to wager $484,513.

Peace Corp Test Set for Sept. 11

An opportunity for Kingston area residents to offer their abilities to the Peace Corps will come 9 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 11, at the Central Post Office, Broadway.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps Placement Test, which is not passed or failed and applicants can't study for it. It measures general aptitude and the ability to learn language. If, for example, test scores indicate limited language acquiring ability, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English speaking area. The test is used by the Peace Corps only as a tool in the matching of Volunteers and jobs. The Peace Corps application is the most important indicator of suitability for Peace Corps service. It must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted.

Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing centers, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French language achievement test, which requires an additional hour.

'Sort of Planned' Rest Around Beatles

CHICAGO (AP)—"If my parents hadn't driven me here, I would have come alone," said 12-year-old Eileen Farrell of Syracuse, N.Y.

Eileen rode more than 800 miles to attend Friday night's performance of the Beatles, England's mop-haired quartet, at the White Sox baseball park.

Her mother, Mrs. Mary Farrell, said:

"We sort of planned our vacation around the Beatles."

World News In Brief

Outbreak Kills Five

MEXICO CITY (AP) — An outbreak of intestinal disease has killed four children and an adult, according to reports from a flood-stricken area of West Mexico.

Hospitals in the state of Nayarit were reported treating more than 200 persons stricken with the disease. Most of the ill were children.

22nd Grim Day

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (AP) — Sunday is the 22nd of the month, and for the Stillitano family it seems the threat of death.

Since 1960 five members of the family have been slain, each on the 22nd day of August.

The deaths in the little Italian village of Drosi began after a blood vengeance oath was sworn by the uncle of a youth crippled in a duel with a member of the family—Antonio Stillitano.

The crippled youth, Martino Seva, has come home to plead for clemency for the Stillitano family. But somewhere in the Aspromonte (bitter mountain) country roams his uncle, who reportedly has sworn to kill every member of the family.

Police say the uncle, Demonico Maisano, 45, strikes only on the 22nd of the month — the day young Martino was shot. Police have offered $5,000 reward for Maisano.

Reports Guevara Killed

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A radio station operated by the civilian-military junta said Friday night that former Cuban Minister of Industries Ernesto Guevara was killed last April in the Dominican revolt.

Radio San Domingo gave no further details.

Guevara dropped from public view in Cuba five months ago after Premier Fidel Castro relieved him of his post.

Break Up Demonstration

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Police used tear gas and clubs today to break up a demonstration by 1,500 students against the treaty normalizing relations between South Korea and Japan.

It was the second such protest in two days as schools reopened after a brief vacation.

Cites Protection Racket

MORGANFIELD, Ky. (AP) — A Job Corps spokesman says trouble at the Camp Breckinridge center —which fostered a 45-minute riot among 80 trainees — apparently stems from "a certain protection racket (that) has been in operation for about two weeks."

At least 11 persons were injured.

Charles Preston, camp public relations director, said that the "protection racket and a rash of burglaries" have brought FBI agents onto the post several times in the past few weeks.

The Everest expedition trained on Mt. Rainier.

Capitol News In Brief

LBJ Adds Details

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has added some new details to the story of how he came to accept the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1960.

Johnson recalled Friday at a Capitol Hill luncheon honoring Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., that the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn changed his mind overnight as to whether Johnson should accept second place on the ticket headed by John F. Kennedy.

Rayburn called him at 2 a.m to tell him there were reports he would be Kennedy's running mate, Johnson said, adding that the speaker advised he would be "idiotic" to accept.

The next morning, Johnson continued, Rayburn urged him to accept the nomination which by then had been offered him by Kennedy. Asked why Rayburn changed his mind, Johnson quoted the late speaker as saying, "Because I'm a damned sight smarter than I was last night."

Friday's luncheon was for the 73rd birthday of Aiken, the senior GOP senator.

Below Expectations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reports that recipts from the sale of the federal conservation sticker and from entrance fees to federal recreation areas are below expectation.

"It is now clear we will be disappointed initially in the receipts," he told a news conference Friday. He said the whole admission-free program will be re-evaluated.

The $7 sticker admits the driver and all passengers for a year starting last April 1 to most federal areas where entrance fees are charged.

Little Linda, a darling child with golden curls and an irresistible dimple, discovered suddenly that she had a stomachache in the middle of the pastor's Sunday sermon. "Mummy," she whispered, "I am terrible sick." "Control yourself until the service is over," urged her mother. Linda did her best, but it was strickly no soap.

"I'm going to be sick all over the pew in a minute," she promised. Her mother, now thoroughly frightened, said, "Well if you must, tiptoe out of church and round to the bushes in the garden and then come back when you feel better."

Linda was back in the pew in less than a minute. Her triumphant mother whispered, "I knew it was just your imagination. You couldn't have been sick out in the garden and gotten back so quickly." "I didn't have to go to the garden, Mummy," said dear little Linda. " found a box right in the back of the church marked 'For the sick.' "

2 Persons Hurt In Rt. 32 Crash Near New Paltz

Two persons were injured at 9:20 p. m. Friday when the cars in which they were riding collided on Route 32 about six miles south of New Paltz.

State Police Sergeant Edward Whalen of Highland reported the vehicles were operated by George Montgomery Jr., 27, New Paltz, and Gerald DiMicco, 18, Marlboro. Both cars were traveling north on the highway and negotiating a curve when the collision occurred.

Trooper Joseph Sedlick said Montgomery told authorities he came to almost a full stop when he saw a pedestrian on the highway as he rounded a curve, and DiMicco reported bright lights of an oncoming car obstructed his view and he failed to see the Montgomery vehicle ahead of him.

DiMicco's car crashed into the rear of the New Paltz man's sedan.

Injured and treated at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, were Anna Montgomery, 22, a passenger in the New Paltz car, who received back injuries, and Rosemary Cafarelli, 18, Peekskill, a passenger in the DiMicco car, who sustained lacerations of the lower lip. Both young women were released after treatment.

The injured were taken to the hospital by the New Paltz ambulance service.

Gets Beer Bath

Police were investigating early today a report by Kenneth Horn, 204 Vestal Hill Drive that someone had thrown beer over his car parked by the Broadway underpass and dented the left front fender in an attempt to open the left front door.

100,000 STAMPS—They took an awful licking, but Robert Fulton will never feel a thing. For while Clermont in Columbia County was busy marking the 200th anniversary of the birth of the steamboat inventor with a "First Day Issue" of the newly struck Fulton stamp, Gladys Jackson and her crew were busy on the west side of the Hudson processing 85,000-100,000 stamps for distribution to clientele. Miss Jackson, a former Hudson Valley resident whose ancestors — the Redders, who operated apple orchards — lived in the Red Hook area, is operator of the largest cover service in the U. S., supplying stamp dealers and collectors with the best grade First Day covers available. Processing the stamps, which actually is done by dampening devices (although the rest is all handwork) is (l-r) Mrs. Beverly Bennett, of Fanwood, N. J.; Stephen Bennett, dubbed the youngest stamper in the business; Miss Jackson and Mrs. Dorothy Reed. Miss Jackson's staff of more than a dozen persons was strategically located at Motel 19 on Route 28 for ready access to Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and lower Columbia County community of Clermont.

Issuing of Fulton Stamp Joyful Day for Clermont

By CHARLES M. McCARTHY
Freeman Staff Writer

Kingston Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk has estimated that cancellations of the First Day Issue of the Robert Fulton commemorative stamp at Clermont in Columbia County Thursday would reach approximately a half million.

Some 1,000 persons from throughout the Hudson Valley and other parts of the country converged on the tiny hamlet east of the Hudson River to participate in the festivities.

For "first day" service operators, stamp collectors and buffs, it was a day for concentration on the future of the new stamp—which commemorates the 200th anniversary of the inventor of the steamboat — and almost 158 years to the day that the steamboat Clermont churned up the Hudson from New York City to Albany.

Joyful Day of History

But to the 200 some residents of the community which is the namesake of the famous steamboat, it was a day for joyful history. The vast majority of those who took advantage of the event apparently weren't fazed by the fact that the Kingston Post Office was called in to supervise the issuance and cancellation of some quarter million of the Fulton stamps—because Clermont lacked a post office.

Rather, it provdied them with an opportunity to enjoy a civic pride that rarely comes to most small communities. Some 35 personnel from the Kingston post office moved into the Town Hall about 8 a. m. to set up operations. Within a half hour the village green resounded with tunes by the Germantown High School Band.

Community youth responded and the event "came alive" with variety acts in a home-style talent show.

Mid-day provided a special treat for the hungry. The women of the community broke out their homemade delicacies; cakes, bread, preserves; the works. Many of them adorned costumes of the historic period to add a touch of the past.

Beginning of New Era

The future was dealt with by Deputy Postmaster Frederick C. Belen.

He said that it was only just that the dedication ceremonies for the commemorative stamp be held in Clermont on that day, for "Fulton's Folly" arrived in Albany, Aug. 19, 1807, some 150 miles and 32 hours after leaving New York. A few weeks later, Belen said, the first 90 passengers on Fulton's new packet line repeated the trip, thus signaling "a new era begun for America."

Belen said that 114 million Fulton stamps have been printed in blue and black finish on white paper. "It is my sincere hope," he said, "that this postage stamp will remind America of the great contribution made by Robert Fulton."

Postmaster Newkirk supervised the postal operations, which lasted through to about 4 p. m. Supervisor Sherman Potts, of the Town of Clermont, was chairman of the event. Gus Kramer, chairman of the Area Chamber of Commerce, introduced Deputy Postmaster Belen.

Kramer Convincing

Kramer was instrumental in convincing the Post Office Department that Clermont was the proper issuing point for the "First Day Issue" of the new Fulton Stamp. New York City, Albany, Philadelphia, and Fulton, Mo., also vied for the honor.

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville), who also played an integral part in making the Clermont event a reality, was unable to attend. He was represented by Mrs. Resnick, who was presented a commemorative jacketed stamp album to mark the occasion. Other dignataries also were presented with the albums.

Pleads Guilty To Leaving Scene Of Rt. 52 Mishap

A Holyoke, Mass., man pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and paid a fine of $20 Friday before Peace Justice Alex Nirenberg, Town of Wawarsing.

Thomas Kelleher was arrested late Friday afternoon following an investigation by Ellenville state police of a two-car, hit and run accident Thursday night on Route 52 about 1.4 miles west of Route 209.

Police said that a car owned and operated west on Route 52 by Charles Schannin, 66, Brooklyn was sideswiped by an unknown, late model, dark car which was headed east and left the scene of the accident.

The car Kelleher was driving was returned to its owner, Kenneth De Santis of Schenectady early Friday. De Santis had previously reported the car as stolen, police said, and informed Ellenville troopers of its recovery.

The car, which "looked like it had been damaged in an accident," matched the description of the offending hit and run vehicle, police stated. Kelleher's arrest for the traffic violation followed immediately. De Santis did not press charges on the theft of the vehicle, the police report concluded.

Youth Critical, Hurt in 1-Car Accident Friday

A teenager was reported in critical condition today and another youth was cited for driving while intoxicated after they were involved in a one-car accident on Route 44 in Dutchess County late Friday night.

John H. Cummings, 18, of Millbrook is currently undergoing treatment for compound skull fractures, concussions and lacerations of the scalp at the Sharon, Conn., Hospital.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Franklin J. Jenkins, also 18 of Canoe Hill Road, Millbrook, who suffered abrasions of the back.

According to a report by troopers at Millbrook State Police substation, Jenkins was driving east on Route 44 about 10:30 p. m. near the Short Road in Town of Washington when he failed to negotiate a left turn.

The youth's car reportedly ran off the road, hit a utility pole and a tree, overturned, skidded across the highway and came to rest on the westbound lane of Route 44.

Jenkins was issued a summons for driving while intoxicated. The car he was driving was owned by his father, Samuel Jenkins. Trooper Denis Feerick was in charge.

Local Men Face Numbers' Count

Two local men were charged with possession of policy slips Friday and were released on $2,000 bail each for apearance Wednesday before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, Lake Katrine.

James Cardinale, 57, and his son, Francis J. Reilly, 19, both of 88 Farelly Street, Kingston, were arrested by Lake Katrine State Police at Tuytenbridge Road, Town of Ulster.

A troopers' report said both men were found with paper bags containing "bets and money." Their arrests followed an intensive investigation by BCI agent Joseph Ventriglia.

Resnick Reports On Disposal of Area Livestock

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick revealed today that four counties in the 28th Congressional district have already disposed of 7,200 head of livestock due to the drought emergency situation. Congressman Resnick cited figures prepared by the individual County United States Department of Agriculture Disaster Committees for Dutchess, Ulster, Columbia, and Greene Counties.

Resnick pointed out that these committees project an additional disposal of 6,800 head of livestock in the near future if farmers are not able to purchase government owned grains at 75% of support prices. He added that many area farmers are already beginning to use a feed reserve set aside for next winter. Resnick appealed to the Secretary of Agriculture today to make this grain available at the earliest possible time. He pointed out that last year New York State farmers purchased over 9 million bushels of grain at a savings to them of over 4½ million dollars.

"Earlier this year," Congressman Resnick said, "I asked the Department to release District farmers from hay and grazing requirements. They have done this. With the drought emergency situation increasing everyday, I consider this next step to be of the utmost importance in maintaining our rural economy."

County figures used in application for Federal livestock feed drought relief follow:

Normal hay production (in thousands of tons): Dutchess 73,000; Columbia, 82,500; Greene, 33,600; Ulster 50,000.

1965 projected crop (in thousands of tons): Dutchess, 45,000; Columbia, 30,000; Greene, 7,700; Ulster, 20,000.

Normal ensilage production (in thousands of tons): Dutchess, 150,000; Columbia, 150,000; Greene, 23,000; Ulster, 50,000.

1965 projected crop (in thousands of tons): Dutchess, 90,000; Columbia, 70,000; Greene, 7,600; Ulster, 23,000.

Projected livestock disposal if emergency situation is not relieved: Dutchess, 2,800; Columbia, 500; Greene, 2,500; Ulster, 1,000.

Number of head of livestock already disposed of because of drought: Dutchess, 2,700; Columbia, 1,000; Greene, 500; Ulster, 3,000.

Expect Mangled Leg of Area Boy Will Be Normal

SAYRE, Pa. (AP)—A farmhand's quick reaction, a 3½-hour operation and today little Jeffrey Anderson can hope that his mangled left leg will grow normally.

The 11-year-old boy, whose home is in Dutchess County, N.Y., was visiting his grandfather's farm Thursday near Owego, N.Y., when his leg became tangled in a hay loading machine.

Farm workers freed the boy from the machine and drove him to the Robert Packer Hospital here.

Meanwhile, farmhand Stephen Guiles spotted a 10-inch piece of the boy's leg bone in the machine and called a deputy sheriff, who rushed it to the hospital.

Dr. Albert M. Murtland, who headed a team of surgeons, inserted the bone in place during the operation. He said the bone "is going to live" and would grow normally "if Jeffrey is lucky."

Jeffrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson of Hopewell Junction.

Sentence Marines Who Tried to Fly Bombers to Hanoi

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Marines accused of trying to steal jet planes loaded with bombs at Da Nang last month for a raid on Hanoi have been court-martialed and sentenced, a U.S. military spokesman said Friday.

One was sentenced to three years confinement at hard labor and ordered dishonorably discharged, the spokesman said. The other was sentenced to a year's confinement at hard labor. Each was reduced in rank from private first class to private. Their names have not been made public.

The leathernecks, who were described as intoxicated at the time, were spotted by air police July 19 as each sat at the controls of a B57 bomber. Neither Marine was able to start the planes, one of which was reported slightly damaged.

The Marines had sneaked onto the flight line at the big air base at Da Nang, from which U.S. aircraft fly bombing missions in North Viet Nam.

The specific charges against the two were: drunk and disorderly conduct, wilful damage or destruction of government property and an attempt to steal government property.

Four Pay Fines, Saugerties Court

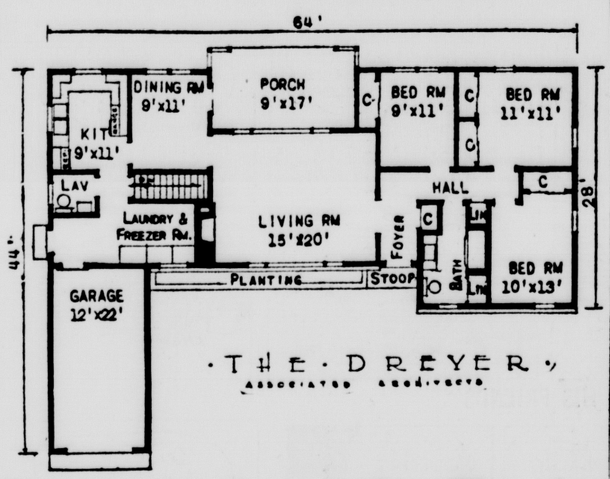

A total of $25 in traffic violation fines was paid before Saugerties Village Judge G. Thomas Rea Friday night.

Paying $10 was John Amendola, Route 4, Saugerties, for failing to keep right.

Fines of $5 each were paid by Lawrence Burns, Garrison, and Lawrenec Norris, Hesston, Pa. for double parking and Charles Coll of Saugerties for parking in a restricted zone.

THE DREYER
ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS

Freezer-Laundry Room In New Ranch House

By JACK McELENEY

A ranch house by Associated Architects is a handsome thing, like the home whose plan is presented today — "The Dreyer." Overall, the dwelling is 64 by 28 feet, which sounds like a worthwhile place to own. Actually, that's so. A home like this provides all the space you'd need for living and playing. Also, the living and sleeping quarters are adequately separated, in this case by a spacious living room.

Let's take a look at that room first. In the 15 by 20 feet of living room there is a fireplace and picture windows both front and rear. The front window has before it a special bed for flowers and shrubs, so that there is an attractive frame both inside and out. The rear picture window overlooks a covered porch, 9 by 17 feet. That porch is quite useful. During the day it makes an ideal play setting. Mealtimes it becomes an outdoor dining room. Screen it in—the job's not at all difficult—and the porch becomes another room.

There are three bedrooms in the plan of "The Dreyer," with a full bath accessible to all. Bedroom sizes range from 9 by 11 feet to 10 by 13 feet. Instead of closets there are big wardrobes that have modern twin sliding doors. Each has a double window for adequate lighting and ventilation. The bath that serves this end of the house has its tub in a custom-like niche, and a sink fitted into a most useful counter. There is a linen closet for storage of towels and soaps.

Outside, in the hall, the regular linen closet serves to store bed linens and the like. Obviously, plenty of closet space here particularly when you note the coat closet located in the foyer.

To the other side of the living room we find the working section of "The Dreyer." A side entrance here makes it unnecsary for delivery men and younger members of the family to use the front door; the entrance also communicates with the rear of the garage. Very handy to the lavatory, where household mechanics can wash up before wandering to another part of the house.

A laundry and freezer room, with space for all necessary appliances, comes next. Such an arrangement makes it easy to live on one floor, so you see that a basement is really unnecessary in a home like "The Dreyer." However, plans are available with and without basement, as you prefer.

To discourage unnecessary foot traffic the kitchen is set out of the way, but close to the dining room. The U-shape of the kitchen keeps appliances, counters and cabinets within paces of each other, effectively reducing housewifely steps. (Such a saving can be measured in miles.) A full-scale dining room connecting living room, porch and kitchen will prove to be most convenient.

"The Dreyer" provides 1,350 square feet of living space with another 380 square feet for porch and garage.

Plans for "The Dreyer" are moderate in cost and may be obtained by using the accompanying coupon. Make sure to say if you want drawings with or without basement. Your plans will include, at no extra cost a set of specifications that will help protect your financial investment.

If your taste runs to other building materials than wood frame — wood siding construction, your plans also show how brick veneer or concrete block may be substituted. All three materials will make an equally handsome, durable dwelling.

USE THIS COUPON TO ORDER BLUEPRINTS
